DRASTIC DRY LAW TO BE EFFECTIVE OCT. 28

DON'T EXPECT PRESIDENT'S SIGNATURE OR VETO

Attorney General Palmer to Send Measure to White House Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—There is a very slight possibility that President Wilson will raise the war time prohibition ban before constitutional prohibition takes effect in January, it was learned today. Upon ratification of the peace treaty with Germany the president may proclaim peace although the United States technically will still be at war with Austria. A declaration of peace would make possible the lifting of the war time prohibition restrictions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The prohibition law, deemed one of the most sweeping acts ever passed by Congress, was expected to be sent to the White House today by Attorney General Palmer, who has been investigating its constitutionality. The plan, it was learned, is to have the bill remain at the White House until October 28, when it becomes effective even without Pres. Wilson's signature. From reliable quarters there has been no hint of a veto.

Under this law, on October 28 at the latest it would become illegal to manufacture or sell liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol or any patent medicines or other compounds, fit for beverage purposes, containing more than that amount of alcohol. Violations are to be investigated by commissioners of internal revenue and reported to local United States attorneys. Commissioners are authorized to swear out warrants giving them a right to search for liquor and arrest the offenders.

Not Deemed Illegal
The alcoholic liquids not deemed illegal are denatured alcohol; medicinal preparations of alcohol for beverage purposes, which must have the quantity of alcohol contained printed on each package; flavoring extracts unfit for beverage use, vinegar and preserved sweet cider.

Liquor manufactured before the bill goes into effect will remain in United States bonded warehouses and the alcohol content reduced to bring it within the law, or withdrawn to be denatured.

Beer containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol may be sold, but not under the name of beer, ale or porter.

Places where intoxicating drinks are sold are to be declared common nuisances and the fines imposed shall rest as liens against the property if the owner had guilty knowledge of what was going on in his building. When such a place is discovered, the law provides that an injunction may be issued to stop the illicit sale and prevent removal of liquor.

May Be Resold
Liquor which is seized may be destroyed or delivered to any government agency for medicinal, mechanical or scientific uses, or sold to persons having permits to purchase it for such purposes.

Distillers and bonded warehouses may, under the law, upon the filing of a bond and the obtaining of a permit, be used as industrial alcohol plants. The commissioner of internal revenue is authorized to issue regulations governing industrial alcohol plants, to develop the non-beverage alcohol industry.

Penalties under the dry law are varied, ranging from prison sentences to fines, according to what section of the law is violated.

Bolshevik Forces Under Crushing Attacks On All Their Narrowing Fronts

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The various anti-Bolshevik forces continue their crushing pressure upon Trotsky's armies on all fronts of the rapidly narrowing territory dominated by the latter, according to advices received here today. While the fall of Petrograd, unofficially reported last week, had not been officially confirmed, the city was said to be completely isolated and General Yudenitch's forces were on the outskirts, according to a Helsingfors dispatch. A News Agency dispatch from Helsingfors today said Yudenitch by a rapid stroke east of Gatchina yesterday, succeeded in blowing up the railway bridge over the Tosna, cutting communications between Petrograd and Moscow. A Copenhagen dispatch said it was officially announced that Yudenitch had taken Ligovo, nine miles from Petrograd. According to the Copenhagen Tiden, a dispatch from Reval declared the Bolsheviks are preparing for a desperate defense of Petrograd. It said the city had been divided into ten defensive sections and that all streets had been barricaded, with 250 soldiers at each barricade. Admiral Kolchak was reported today to have captured the important railway junction at Liski, commanding communications between the Bolshevik fronts on the Don and Tsaritsin. At the same time, General Shkuro was said to have occupied Gafskaya Junction.

HOBBO ON KING'S SPECIAL TRAIN DISCOVERED

ABOARD KING ALBERT'S TRAIN LA JUNTA, Colo., Oct. 20.—Jack Wallace, 26, hobo, today claims a world's hobo record. Wallace rode the King of Belgium's special train from Albuquerque, N. M., to a point five miles out, where the train was stopped and he was put off.

"I guess I am the first guy who ever beat his way on a king's train in the United States," said Wallace, quite unimpressed nevertheless.

"It wasn't any different from riding an ordinary train except that I got caught. Now that I know I was on a king's train I understand why so many detectives climbed the top and rods of the train at Albuquerque so carefully."

Wallace rode "blind baggage." He was not arrested.

King Albert again took the throttle of the engine Sunday night, driving from Lamy, N. M., nearly to the Colorado line.

Two locomotives are drawing the king's train from Los Angeles to Kansas City for the first time in the Santa Fe railroad's history, it is believed. A pilot engine is sent on ten miles ahead to clear the track.

GIRLS HUNTING FOR PHYSICALLY PERFECT

BERKELEY, Oct. 20.—Girls at the University of California are giving the freshmen the "once over" today in an attempt to ascertain which ones are physically perfect. The girls are disgruntled by the action of Prof. Kleeberger, director of the men's gymnasium. First the professor aroused their interest by announcing that 25 of the men of the new class were physically perfect. The girls, by committee, asked him to publish the names but he refused. Kleeberger said war training resulted in arrival of more physically perfect men at the campus.

FACES MANSLAUGHTER FOR DEATH BY AUTO

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Following the death of E. L. Mulden from injuries received when struck by an automobile said to have been driven by W. T. Webber, secretary of the California Walnut Growers' Association, Webber was arrested here yesterday and held for manslaughter. He furnished bonds of $3000.

PENNSYLVANIA LABOR FEDERATION TO MEET

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 20.—A convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor will be held in Pittsburgh not later than November 6 to determine action on a strike in sympathy with the steel workers. This move was decided upon at a meeting here yesterday in which members of the central labor union pledged themselves to attempt to defeat reelection of city officials who have refused to act on complaints of strikers.

WILSON SAYS CONFERENCE MUST STAY AT WORK

If Delegates Quit He Will Name Others; Collective Bargaining Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Wilson will not permit the national industrial conference to break up in a disagreement. This was learned on high authority at the White House today.

If any delegates quit the conference the president will name substitutes or cause them to be named, it was made clear. Even should an entire group walk out the administration would make an effort to have it replaced. The industrial conference is here "to see this thing through," according to the attitude taken at the executive mansion. So much is at stake that the government cannot afford to let the conference go to pieces.

Representatives of the public today faced a fight to keep the national industrial conference in session. A vote on the question of collective bargaining cannot be delayed after today, in the opinion of most delegates.

Gary Against Mediation
The pending steel strike should not be arbitrated nor compromised," said Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, in a speech today before the conference.

"I believe in conciliation, co-operation and arbitration wherever practical without sacrificing principle," Gary said.

"I am of the fixed opinion that the pending strike against the steel industry of this country should not be arbitrated or compromised or any action taken by this conference which bears upon that subject. Also that there should be maintained in actual practice without interruption the open shop as I understand it—namely that every man whether he does or does not belong to a labor union shall have the opportunity to engage in any line of legitimate employment on terms and conditions agreed upon between employer and employee."

Opposed to Practice
"I am opposed to a policy of practice which unnecessarily hinders production, increases cost, deprives the workman from receiving the highest wage rate resulting from voluntary or reasonable effort, hinders promotion in accordance with merit or otherwise interferes with individual action."

Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor took the floor after Gary, declaring he was greatly disappointed with Gary's statement.

This afternoon's session convened after a five-minute morning session and after the greater part of the day had been devoted to committee meetings and caucuses of groups.

The employers' group had been in caucus almost continually since Friday.

The collective bargaining resolution has been under consideration but so far there is no indication that the employers' group has reached a final stand on the matter.

The public and labor groups are ready to vote in favor of collective bargaining, members say. A negative vote by the employers' group, however, will defeat it and labor men say they will quit the conference if this occurs.

COUPLE ARE DROWNED IN WOLFSKILL LAKE

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Oct. 20.—George H. Alger, a well known insurance man of this city, and Mrs. Elizabeth Reager, of Montreal, Canada, were drowned Sunday afternoon in Wolfskill Lake, a few miles from this city, when a boat in which they were rowing suddenly sprang a leak. Friends on the shore of the lake attempted to reach the couple as they struggled to hold the boat, but they sank before assistance could reach them.

WILSON'S DIGESTIVE DISTURBANCE BETTER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—"The President's digestive disturbance has subsided almost completely," said a statement issued by his physicians, at 11:25 a. m. today.

"After a fairly good night, he is comfortable this morning," the bulletin continued.

The statement was signed by Drs. Grayson, Ruffin and Stitt.

Titled Personages Coming When Prince Visits Capitol

LADY ORANMORE-BROWNE
Wife of Irish Peer Among the Noted Guests Who Will Be Entertained

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—When the Prince of Wales visits Washington next month officially there will be a number of prominent British and Irish people present. In fact numerous titled personages are coming to America expressly for the event.

Among these is Lady Oranmore-Browne, wife of Lord Geoffrey Oranmore, representative peer of Ireland. Lady Oranmore-Browne will be a member of a considerable party of titled Britons who likely will travel together and arrive shortly before the Prince gets to the national capital.

Washington society leaders are already making arrangements for the entertainment of the noted guests and many large affairs have been planned. There is a question whether the prince will attend any of these functions as he has repeatedly declined to take any part in private affairs on his tour through Canada. Soon after he landed he sent word ahead that he would appear only at public gatherings and so far he has not broken the rule.

EMPLOYEES OF FEDERAL TRADE BOARD ASSAILED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Senator Watson of Indiana following his introduction of a resolution asking a senatorial investigation of the Federal Trade Commission spoke before the senate elaborating on the charges in his resolution that Federal Trade Commission employees had been disseminating socialist and bolshevist doctrines. Watson referred to Stuart Chase who had charge of the Chicago offices of the commission during the investigation.

"His office at Chicago during the investigation of the meat packers was in the Conway building and it at once became the center of socialist activities," Watson declared. "About him were grouped such men as Victor Berger and Irvine St. John Tucker, both of whom have been convicted under the espionage act and many other extreme socialists."

LEMARE'S ACTION DUE TO NERVOUS COLLAPSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Edwin H. Lemare, the city organizer, explained today that his strange exhibition at the immense organ in the auditorium last night was due to nervous collapse. The collapse, he said, resulted from being forced several times to play before a moving and unappreciative audience at the land show.

Lemare favored the audience with a remarkable rendition of Mendelssohn's war march in discord.

Before he had finished the selection he closed the organ and abruptly left.

SOLDIERS WILL UNLOAD SHIPS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Five hundred soldiers arrived here today and will be employed in unloading vessels of the United States shipping board tied up here in this harbor by the longshoremen's strike. This was announced by United States army officials at Hoboken.

The soldiers will wear regulation uniforms but these will be hidden beneath common blue overalls.

Meanwhile, Mayor Hyland, who yesterday met with John H. Riley, chairman of the strikers committee; Immigration Commissioner Hughes of Philadelphia and fifty heads of local longshoremen's unions in an effort to effect a settlement, announced further meetings would be held today.

After conferences yesterday, the mayor telegraphed Secretary Baker requesting the soldiers sent here should not be used in place of the longshoremen until further efforts at conciliation had been made. Hyland said he believed a settlement was in sight today despite the fact union heads refused to recognize the committee appointed Sunday by Secretary of Labor Wilson because of the presence on it of Paul Vaccarelli, former union official.

Vaccarelli, union men said, does not represent them. Ship owners, according to Frederic Toppin, vice president of the International Mercantile Marine, have given longshoremen until today to return to their jobs. Strike breakers will be employed to load and unload the 108 ships of the trans-Atlantic conference, he said, if the men do not come back.

LIKE THE SERVICE

BOARD SETS PRICE FOR AMERICAN PRODUCT

Ten Cents Cash Less Two Per Cent Seaboard Basis Is Amount Fixed

REFINERS ARE WARNED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

Department of Justice and Equalization Board Work to Get Supply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Attorney General Palmer today threatened prosecutions against beet sugar refiners who ask higher prices than those set by the sugar equalization board.

The wholesale prices fixed by the sugar equalization board, Palmer's announcement revealed, is "ten cents cash, less two per cent aboard basis."

Palmer's warning which was telegraphed to beet sugar refiners throughout the country, showed that the sugar equalization board and the department of justice have been co-operating to get the beet sugar supply on the market at a fair price to relieve the present shortage.

Palmer, in his telegram to refiners, quoted a telegram which the equalization board has also sent to refiners. This message revealed that the beet sugar factories were failing to sell their products as produced because of uncertainty about prices.

Telegram of Palmer
"After a thorough investigation by recognized authorities on sugar, the United States Equalization Board has notified the Department of Justice of the following facts:

"As a consideration part of the country generally supplied at this time of the year with beet sugar may be embarrassed because of the beet sugar factories' failure to sell beet sugar as produced and this condition, in turn, is due to uncertainty regarding price, our judgment is that no higher price than ten cents cash less 2 per cent seaboard basis is justified and we hope you will decide at once to begin marketing your sugars on this basis and relieve the very serious situation."

"The price of ten and one-half cents net cash f. o. b. plant, which has been offered by the sugar equalization board for sugars in excess of requirements in your territory as shown by your 1917 deliveries as a minimum up to 50,000 tons for November and December shipment to relieve an acute shortage among the manufacturers east is not to be considered a precedent or basis for local prices."

Higher Charge Unjust
"I ask you to make your announcement of prices based on the above," Palmer continued. "The department of justice will treat as an unjust charge any price in excess of this and consider such a charge a violation of section 4 of the Lever Food Control Act as amended. Please wire today your concurrence in the above."

While Palmer's warning dealt only with wholesale prices retail prices are also directly affected. Fair price committees, now being formed throughout the country will know exactly what price retailers are paying for sugar and at what price it should be sold to allow a fair margin of profit.

BODY OF ASTOR LYING AT HOME OF HIS SON

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The body of Viscount Astor, who died of heart disease Saturday, was lying today in the home of his son, Waldorf Astor, in St. James Square.

ACROSS U. S. IN 2 JUMPS PLAN OF MAYNARD

New York to Dallas, Texas, Then to San Diego, 'Is Route Proposed

By LIEUT. BELVIN W. MAYNARD, (Transcontinental Air Racer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—In order to show the practicability of transcontinental passenger flying, Lieutenant Bradshaw and I were given permission to try a flight from New York to San Diego with only one stop at Dallas, Texas. We applied to the air service director and were given permission shortly before the start of the aerial derby.

We have equipped a regular De Havilland Four with extra gasoline and oil tanks so as to carry about 315 gallons of gas. We made a trial flight and carried over 200 gallons. We think we will be able to get off the ground with the total extra weight. If so, we can reach Dallas from New York the first day, and go on to San Diego the next.

In order to increase our speed about seven or eight miles an hour we will take off regular cable supports and substitute streamline wire. The round cables on an average plane cause nearly as much resistance as do the wings.

Although in the flying game there always has been a certain "element of luck," the continued improvement and advancement of airplane construction will within a few years eliminate most of the uncertainties of aviation.

The "human equation" is a far greater factor in flying than in motor racing or other sports, but this factor will be largely decreased with larger planes carrying several motors, better landing fields and improvements in design of planes.

City and County Briefs

The prizes awarded at the Orange county fair to those who entered poultry and rabbits were not published for the reason that the cards have not been returned to the secretary's office. This fact is to be regretted, as there has been considerable disappointment felt by those who made entries in these lines, and leaves the list of awards incomplete.

Senara Morales, a 9-year-old Mexican boy, was taken to the Santa Ana hospital last evening for attention, following a fall from a horse which he was riding. The horse was scared or run into by an automobile driven by A. W. Johnston, 319 West First street, who promptly took the lad to the hospital. The boy was able to go home this morning. He was not seriously hurt. The accident was about 8 o'clock last evening.

Americanization Is Main Theme As Federated Clubs Meet At Huntington Beach

The semi-annual county convention of Federated Women's Clubs held on Saturday at Huntington Beach in the Women's Club house. Nearly a hundred interested women from all corners of the county were present, and were rewarded by a program of exceptional merit, prepared by Mrs. C. F. Crose of Santa Ana, the county president.

"Americanization" was the pervading theme, with emphasis laid also upon "Thrift" and "Community Service," the three chief topics of organized womanhood this year.

Community singing, under the direction of Mrs. H. M. Sammis, the county chairman of music, with Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano, was a particularly pleasing feature of the program. Mrs. Sammis generously gave several delightful solos, at the request of her audience. She spoke briefly of the benefits of community singing as a practical feature of Americanization work, saying that since music is a language of universal appeal, and since it plays so important a part in the everyday life of so many of the alien peoples, they may often be reached through this sympathetic medium.

Mrs. Moore of Huntington Beach welcomed the club women, and Mrs. F. E. Malle of Anaheim, responded.

Americanization, Topic
Rev. Vernon Monroe McCombs of Los Angeles, a prominent worker in Americanization among the Latin Americans, gave the principal address of the day.

"We often hear nowadays," said Mr. McCombs, "that the country is frantic on Americanization. That is not a good state of mind to be in—we should be calmly and steadfastly working for Americanization. Among the alien population, particularly among Latin-Americans, there is apparently a great desire for it. They are trying to find out just what it is that makes America successful. But too often, just as they are ready to grasp the ideal, someone blunders. As an instance, there came under my observation the case of a young Mexican, who, desiring to send $80 to his mother in Mexico, and being unable to read or write English, applied to an acquaintance for aid in making out the money order. The unscrupulous acquaintance made the order payable to himself—and the young Mexican was impressed very unfavorably with the idea of Americanization."

"The beginning of the Americanization problem lies within ourselves. We must offer a safe and fine pattern of American to the alien. Meet him calmly, get right down among the foreigners and work patiently and perseveringly. Don't be impatient, irritable, superior—don't expect miracles and impossibilities. Use every possible means to get the people together pleasantly. Give them a good working example of what Americanization means—clean up our own side of the fence first."

Tells of Teaching
Mr. McCombs was followed by Senator Luiz Firre of Huntington Beach, who is working among his Latin-American brothers in Orange county. Since last June he has established classes among Mexican men, women and children, teaching them English. He is trying to establish a little Sunday school for Mexican children. There are classes in Huntington Beach, Westminster, Talbott, Wintersburg and Artesia. Mr. Firre going from class to class on a bicycle.

"I want to make my country people enjoy the privileges and blessings that exist under our flag and my flag—for I am an American citizen," said Mr. Firre. "And I want to feel that the American people are behind us in our efforts."

Reports from department chairmen contained much of interest. Miss Minnie Childs of Tustin, art chairman, spoke of the art colony in Orange county as one of the finest in California. Art in the public school is to be encouraged by exhibiting in some instances competition. The first exhibit will be held at Ontario Women's District Convention of Women's Clubs in session.

Mrs. W. B. Tedford of Santa Ana civics chairman; Mrs. D. Eymann of El Modena, chairman of legislation and political science; Mrs. Annie H. Gale, Americanization chairman, were among those who gave fine reports of work accomplished and work planned. Child welfare was presented by Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, who introduced Mrs. Leebrick, who, having supervised the child welfare station and free clinic in Santa Ana, and for some time past had some practical first-hand advice to give.

Pleds For Child Welfare
"The war showed us," said Mrs. Leebrick, "that those below par physically came not only from the homes of the poor, but from homes where children were well bred and carefully reared. It showed in the astonishing rate of physically unfit turning down by the draft boards, that American children must be conserved."

Mrs. Leebrick presented a strong plea for the preservation of the child and reminding her hearers that the station in Santa Ana is not alone for those who could not otherwise afford medical attention, but for every child who needs it.

Mrs. W. L. Grubb, thrift chairman, presented her subject in a practical and entertaining talk. Part of Mrs. Grubb's talk follows:

Talk On Thrift
"Next to the much-discussed 'League of Nations,' there is perhaps no subject that is calling forth more comment today than is the subject of Thrift in its various phases. For the phases of thrift are legion—and its virtues are manifold. The teachings of thrift are the essence of wisdom and its practice would solve every national, municipal and family problem."

"Thrift is defined in Webster's as 'A thriving condition; The winning of success by industry, economy and good management.' Thrift is care and prudence in the management of one's affairs; Thrift is good management in the business of living. But the definition that I like best, and that I would like to see memorized by every man, woman and child in the United States is this: 'Thrift means to get the most for one's money; the most for one's time, and the most for one's strength. Think what that would mean to an individual—to you or to me—if we were thrifty enough to actually get the most for every dollar we spend! Think what it would mean to you or to me, to get the most for our time, and whether it be employed in work, recreation, study or the pursuit of pleasure. We waste time every day—all of us; perhaps we waste it by working when we ought to be reading—or in reading when we ought to be walking; or walking when we should be riding, and so on ad infinitum. However we do it, we must all admit that we are not thrifty as to time."

"Then, what would it mean to get the most for our strength—the strength that, in many of us, is so limited and so precious. Yet, how we waste it! We destroy it by worry, we squander it by fretting; we corrode it by ill-temper; we strain it by overdoing. One of our daily aims should be the practice of strict economy (or thrift) in the use of that most valuable asset to satisfactory living—our strength."

"Every individual should learn to distinguish between needs and desires; one should study values, not done in foods, clothing and furnishings, but in giving, in helping, in friendships and in social relations. We can waste and scatter our resources in these ways, just as we can in buying, making, working and planning."

"We are in the habit of thinking of thrift as applied to material things only. We think of it as applied to savings, to elimination of waste, to the care of clothing, food and furnishings, to the general management of the household, and the administration of family affairs. It is true, we need to apply to those lines, but we should not let it stop there. For, quoting from a government bulletin, 'Things of Spirit Count'."

"The things of the spirit are the real values to which, in the balanced life, all material things are subject. The unrest and chaos in the world today are the result, undoubtedly, of lack of discrimination of the essential things of life, and an over-estimate of worldly, material things."

"In the greed for higher wages, balanced productivity has been lost sight of; in the lust for power and political place justice has been cast aside. The craze for sensationalism and excitement has driven wholesome forms of recreation into the background, and the result is a morbid condition of mind that is dangerous alike to the individual and to the country at large."

"The class of moving pictures that is constantly put before the eyes of the public, I believe to be a strong agent for fostering the morbid trend of thought that we see exhibited in the younger generation especially—the pictures and the jazz music that we hear on every hand."

"I was glad to note in an address by the Rev. Paul Wright, recently from overseas, a stirring plea for saving the musical taste of the nation which seems in danger of becoming totally lost through the invasion of the jazz. He said: 'Let us spend millions for music, but not one cent for jazz.' To this I devoutly say, Amen! 'Thus we see the need for that sort of thrift which we may term discrimination, or appreciation of values. While I emphasize the need and applaud the effort to educate our children to be orderly, to care for their clothing, their belongings and toys; to do their share of the home work, and to plan for and with them plenty of wholesome recreation and fun, I must cry out against destroying the effect of all these good things by allowing them to clutter their minds and smirch their spiritual vision by frequent attendance at low-class picture shows, often accompanied by low-class music."

"Our children need broader sympathy, cleaner ideals, and more wholesome recreation than is furnished them in most of our towns and cities. 'The subjects of Thrift, Americanization and Civics are so closely allied that one must of necessity overlap the other. What would Americanization be without thrift? What would become of civics without thrift? And of what value is thrift without a place to apply it? So, may this precious trio flourish and prosper and help us out of the bewilderingments that are about us."

"Just now our government is putting forth extraordinary energy in the attempt to stabilize prices, establish harmony between industry and capital, and place the country once more upon a basis of safety and prosperity. This can be accomplished—not by legislation alone, but by the patriotic co-operation of all the units that go to make up a nation—the thrift of the common people, the energy of labor—the fairness of capital, and the wisdom of administrative departments."

"In many of our schools the practical application of the students' knowledge of woodcraft, machinery and domestic arts is being tried, with excellent results to both students and patrons."

Must Not Relax
"While these and other hopeful signs are most encouraging, we must not for a moment relax our vigilance in keeping ourselves up to the best standard of thrift and efficiency that we are able to establish. If we fall below that standard, we are not being true to ourselves—we are not 'good and faithful servants'—we are not loyal Americans."

"It is my duty at this time to remind you that Orange county is far below its quota in the purchase of U. S. S. and Certificates. Remember, your government needs your help and support now quite as much as in war times. And your children need the cultivation of thrift that saving to buy these stamps will give them. Again I urge you, help your government and yourselves by purchasing Thrift Stamps by living up to your ideals of economy, helpfulness and character-building, ever keeping in mind the fundamental truth that 'get

NEW PROHIBITION LAW EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 28.

Measure Will Go to White House Today; Signature or Veto Not Expected

next January many more provisions of the law become operative. These include regulation of physicians, who cannot prescribe liquor unless they are in active practice and licensed, and the physician must believe it will afford relief to the patient. Not more than one pint may be prescribed within ten days.

Check on Prescriptions
Prescriptions must be made out on a form supplied by the internal revenue commissioner, with stubs, like a checkbook, the book to be turned in after all blanks are used, for the official records. No prescription may be filled more than once and druggists must keep a record, similar to a poison record, of each sale, time, place, etc.

Advertising, manufacture and sale of tablets and formulas for making liquor at home is prohibited. Advertising of liquor in any way is made illegal.

Even the giving of information as to where liquor may be obtained is law breaking. Vehicles used for transporting it shall be seized.

With regard to possession of alcoholic drinks, the act says possession after February 1, 1920, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to violate, except liquor in private homes, legitimately purchased before the law went into effect. This liquor may be used only for the personal consumption of the owner, his family and guests.

FORTY YEARS AGO DRIED BEETS TO SHIP

The beet sugar business of Southern California has grown to be one of the big industries of this section. But yet it was not started without a great deal of trepidation on the part of manufacturers and farmers.

This assertion is borne out by the following from the Los Angeles Daily Evening Express of forty years ago, on October 14, 1879:

After twenty years of experiments it seems that the beet sugar industry is about to be firmly established in the United States and Southern California is to be the particular part of the United States to embark in the enterprise. A company is now being organized in San Francisco to contract with farmers for the beet roots they will raise at a remunerative price, and a factory will be established for grinding the beets and refining the sugar. Heretofore the trouble has been to dry the beets properly, for all the tests have been made in the east where the drying had to be done in kilns, but during a trip to California Prof. E. T. Gennert, a beet sugar expert, studied the methods employed in drying fruit and succeeded in interesting several farmers in growing beets. They thrived and when split open dried in the sun in forty-eight hours with only a minimum of attention. Drying the beets is necessary, as they can only be transported a short distance when fresh and besides, there is a big saving in weight.

Then two days later, on October 16, the following was published: Florence and company, farmers, are delighted with the prospect of a beet sugar factory in Southern California. They say that raising sugar beets at $4 a ton will pay them better than any other crop they could put in. It is certain that if the project is carried out an immense acreage will be planted to beets in Los Angeles county alone.

With beets at $12.50 a ton this year, 1919, as against $4.00 years ago, and labor cost three times as much as it was when the industry was first started, it is little wonder that the price of sugar is twice what it was a few years ago.

GOT BAIT FROM WRECK
CHAGIN FALLS, O., Oct. 20.—O. H. Woodward and a companion started on an auto trip to a fishing place. Unable to obtain bait, they feared the catch would be small. Half way to their destination the auto turned over. Woodward was thrown clear of the machine, but his companion was pinned underneath. When the machine was finally lifted the man inside was found putting angleworms in the bait pail, for the machine had torn up the ground. And they were pleased.

ting the most for one's money, the most for one's time, and the most for one's strength, is the privilege and duty of every thorough American."

Mrs. T. B. Talbert presented a group of little Mexican school children in what proved to be the most appealing bit on the program. The little boys and girls sang sweetly several songs in their native tongue, and a lad with a clear, sweet voice sang "La Paloma." The last song was "America," sung in English, and it went straight to the hearts of the audience, which rose in a body at the first strains of the national air.

A motion to endorse Mrs. A. J. Lawton's candidacy as state president of the Women's Legislative Council was passed.

Upon the invitation of the Santa Ana Elks and Santa Ana Women's Clubs, the next convention will be held in Santa Ana in April. Luncheon was served at noon under the auspices of the hostess club.

TUSTIN. ORANGE MEN TO ATTEND 'Y' CONCLAVE

Special Railway Rates to Be Given Delegates Going to Detroit

When the fortieth international convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America convenes at Detroit, November 19th, 1919, there will be present as delegates W. A. Jones of Tustin, and H. A. Brown of Orange, according to information made public today by W. F. Kroener, secretary of the Orange County Young Men's Christian Association.

The Orange county committee of the Young Men's Christian Association desirous of having a good representation of men as authorized delegates at this convention, and would like anyone who is contemplating making an eastern trip to go as delegate from this country," said Kroener. "Special rates of one and one-third fare, or $106.82 for the round trip, with a time limit between the dates of November 11 to December 3, have been made for men going as delegates. This would give seven days for visiting, if desired. However, anyone going East at that time can act as a delegate by registering at Detroit as having been authorized by this county committee."

"Anyone desiring to act as an authorized delegate of this county association should communicate as early as possible with me at Orange, and the necessary information will be furnished. Only men who are members in good standing of Evangelical churches can be chosen as delegates."

"This will be a convention of unusual significance, in that it is the first after the great world war, and will therefore embody the full detailed reports of the gigantic work undertaken by the Young Men's Christian Association, both at home and overseas. Furthermore, it will be composed of over 75 per cent laymen—leading men from all over the country. Beside the graphic exhibits visualizing the work for us, there will be a great foreign representation. Anyone vitally interested in the future of our country and the practical teaching of our Christian thought cannot afford to miss this opportunity of hearing and seeing first-hand the great progress that is being made and the weighty problems being solved by this great Christian organization."

The Detroit convention will close on November 23.

SIGNAL LOCK ON WHEEL STOPS AUTO THIEF

Attempt Made Last Night to Steel Oakland Belonging to Albert Bruning

An auto wheel theft signal last night saved Albert Bruning of the Oakland garage the loss of his Oakland car, for an attempt was made to steal it. The thief drove it two blocks and abandoned it because of the lock.

Bruning was attending the Temple theater and left his car parked near the playhouse. The thief was seen to get into the car and drive away with the signal attached to the wheel. An elderly man saw the car driven away and notified the police. The thief drove the car west on Third street and left it standing near the postoffice. Bruning is a mechanic at the Oakland garage. An hour or so after the incident, young men drove into the

The boys refused to disclose his name to the officers last night and today City Marshal Jernigan is endeavoring to locate them and force them to divulge the name of the man, who is said to be a young fellow.

Doctor Issues Warning And Tells How to Stop Tobacco Habit

New York: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: I am often asked if I know anything to stop the tobacco habit and I always recommend Nicotol, which I have prescribed with great success. Nicotol contains no habit-forming drugs, is absolutely harmless and produces astonishing results in a very short time. The use of tobacco saps the vitality, vim, vigor and ambition of the slave who is enthralled by its seductive ecstasies. It undermines the health and leaves the victim an easy prey to general debility, throat and lung troubles, nervousness, insomnia, heart trouble, kidney trouble, headache, tongue and lip cancer and even blindness. Physicians the world over often trace the start of the above diseases and many others to nicotine poisoning. If you want to free yourself from to-

CASH BONUS FOR PROSPECTIVE OIL LANDS

Operators Active In Securing Leases on Huntington Beach Mesa

Although no oil rigs have been erected in this section, there is as much oil talk as though the field was full of gushers—in fact, oil is the paramount issue here at this time, and everybody, old and young, is talking about it, and are sure that this mesa will soon be one of the proven oil fields of California, says the Huntington Beach News.

The indications are that the first rig to go up will be on the land leased to the Standard Oil Company by the Huntington Beach Company, and that it will be located near the reservoir hill, or what is known as the Bushard hill.

The area is being gradually extended and most of those owning land on the mesa have been approached by parties desiring to obtain leases.

So far as known, the largest acreage signed up since last week is the 45 acres owned by Dr. S. G. Huff and his son, R. C. Huff. They have signed an agreement to lease on a basis of one-eighth of the oil; a cash bonus of $15 per acre and $2 per acre per month until drilling begins on the property, which is to start within two years. In the event that the time limit is taken before development of an oil well is started, Dr. Huff will have received $63 per acre as a cash bonus, or a total of $1575. This is the first instance reported of a land owner receiving a cash bonus when the agreement was signed.

It is reported on good authority that the Union Oil Company is arranging to take over several small tracts with very favorable leases, being one-sixth of the oil taken from the well and a cash bonus of $5 per acre per month for the land, and a portion of the gas.

Both the Standard and the Union are leasing on the one-sixth basis, and those who are signing agreements to lease for one-eighth will lose the difference in the event that oil is developed on their property, which is more of an item than many may suppose. Take, as an example, a well producing 500 barrels per day. On a one-eighth lease the land owner would receive for his share 62½ barrels, and for a one-sixth lease 83 2/3 barrels, a difference of more than 21 barrels each day.

This accounts for the fact that there are so many "scalpers" in the field looking for property owners who are willing to lease on a basis of one-eighth of the oil produced. These agreements turned over to one of the big companies will make the holders rich at the expense of the man who owns the land.

NATURAL GAS IS ON TAP AT SEAL BEACH RANCH

Joe Simas Has Fuel For Heating and Lighting at His Home

Although not generally known, there is a well just at the edge of Seal Beach city limits that furnishes natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes. The well to which reference is made is at the Joe Simas dairy, at the northeast city limits, a part of the Hellman ranch, and not far distant from where there are platted lots, says the Seal Beach Wave.

The well was bored for water but a flow of natural gas was encountered in such quantities that Simas piped it to his house and to the barn, using it for both fuel and lighting purposes.

It has recently been learned that the men who drilled the well say there is every indication that oil will be found at a greater depth, and possibly natural gas in sufficient quantities for commercial purposes.

A few years ago a well for water was drilled at Anaheim Landing, and there also was found quite a flow of natural gas, besides many very favorable indications of oil.

It is quite probable that there is a stratum of oil underlying this entire section, and that we may yet see oil derricks in operation right here in the city of Seal Beach. Several noted oil experts have recently expressed an opinion that oil will be found here, and it is known that representatives of some of the big oil companies are making a quiet investigation.

It is practically assured that a thorough investigation will be made of the entire coast section of Orange county to ascertain if there are oil bearing lands.

CAN CONTRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT MEMORIALS

Monument, Park and Fund For Teaching Doctrines Are Planned

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—To the citizens of Southern California: The Roosevelt Memorial Association will give during the week of October 20 to October 27 to the friends and admirers of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt an opportunity to subscribe to a fund of $5,000,000 which is to be raised for the purpose of:

First—Of erecting a suitable monument in Washington.

Second—Of purchasing a memorial park at Oyster Bay.

Third—Of creating an endowment fund by means of which the doctrines and teachings of Colonel Roosevelt on the subject of Americanism and the duties of citizenship can be perpetuated and kept continually in the minds of his countrymen.

In these times when the attempt is made to inject the disintegrating teachings of Bolshevism into the current of American life, the sturdy, patriotic devotion to the ideal of government which the law and the square deal to rich and poor as exemplified by Colonel Roosevelt in public life is of tremendous value and importance.

In every county and community throughout Southern California committees are at work to provide the means whereby all who desire to make a practical testimonial of their regard and admiration for Colonel Roosevelt may do so.

The campaign for subscriptions will close on October 27. Colonel Roosevelt's birthday, which has been proclaimed in the state of California as "Americanization Day." It will be observed in every county by appropriate public meetings and by exercises in the public schools.

We appeal to every American to do his or her part, and to every subscriber to the fund will be given a certificate of membership in the association.

Sincerely yours,

MARSHALL STIMSON,

Chairman, Southern California.

LOCAL DOCTOR SHAKES HANDS WITH KING

Dr. Zaiser Meets Royalty In Grand Canyon, While En Route Home

With the distinction of having shaken hands with King Albert of Belgium, Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange county hospital, is home today, following his return from Rochester, Minn., where he studied for some time under Mayo brothers, world-famous surgeons.

Dr. Zaiser's meeting with the king occurred while both were in the Grand Canyon, where Dr. Zaiser stopped off during his journey to the coast.

"I consider it a great privilege to shake hands with a king," Dr. Zaiser told King Albert.

"And I consider it a great privilege to shake hands with an American," replied the king.

Dr. Zaiser is extremely pleased with his course of study with Mayo brothers. He was present while a number of operations were performed by the famous surgeons.

THE FINISH OF DON JUAN THE COYOTE

(Delivered by The Rt. Rev. Robbie Trabuke over the remains of Don Juan, the Coyote, who died in the act of stealing grapes in the Mountain Meadow Vineyard on the 19th day of September, in the nineteen hundred and nineteenth year of our Lord:—

"Though every dog may have his day, For all transgressions he must pay. This wild one held his wayward go Until the hot lead laid him low. Such crimes committing in the night, (All decent sinners shun the light), As grabbing fleecy little lambs, From right beside their sleeping dams, Exulting in their painful bleat As crunching thru their bones he'd eat.

More crafty than a colored gent On chicken stealing he was bent; At times he'd yap his startling howl To frighten drowsy flocks of fowl. And give, "Old Safety First," a bit As higher on their roost they shift. He led a life of ill repute, Of murder, fright and stealing fruit; A crime that bears the strictest ban. Since Eve stole apples for her man.

The first of fallen fair was Eve, A snake prevailed her to deceive; The snake that tries the strength of men.

Temptation plunged the world in sin. Who'er would all forbidden feast; Or man or maid or bird or beast, And think by knowledge, force or skill To flout the Great Creator's will, With mighty Nature's Laws to toy Evade the duty snatch the joy; 'Tis in the dark the deed transact.

Or in defiance do the act, The all-pervading eye of Fate Has marked him out, and soon or late With her deft hand she deals the blow.

The pleasure cup is filled with woe—

Its unearned joy drops in derision Spilled spitefully before the vision. And in their place poured pain and grief. Regret and shame; the soul's relief.

In proof here lies this stricken brute Who dared with his instinct to dispute.

And catered to his pleasure-lust; His conscience council to distrust, That told him when to take the trail And hold his head before his tail. It oft had led him o'er the hill When on good grapes he'd had his fill, And hid him in some bracken shade Before the sun disclosures made.

Like Bacchus fouled on Grecian wine, This time he lingered by the vine. He loved that sweetened juice to sip, Temptation's stronghold is the lip, He lingered there till crack of dawn, 'Till all his lucky stars were gone, Keen Fate so quick to seize her chance.

Climaxed his careless circumstance.

An eye gleamed thru the breaking light

And lined him on a rifle sight, That rifle roused the echoes loud, It rolled a coyote in his shroud.

STOPS MEDICINE—HEALTH RECOVERED BY INTERNAL BATHS

Mr. A. Czarnecki, 657 Montgomery st., San Francisco, Cal., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows: "I must admit that the use of the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has cured my chronic constipation from which I suffered. Since May 12, 1913, I have never even tasted any kind of patent medicine or purgative. My health is excellent in every respect."

Over a half a million bright, keen, intelligent Americans have found that Internal Bathing is more essential to their health than external baths—Have found that used occasionally at night they feel like different people the next morning. No more of that bilious, tired, nervous feeling, but having by nature's own cleanser—antiseptic warm water—removed all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, they awake thoroughly refreshed by normal sleep, with all their functions acting properly, clear headed, happy and confident, eager and capable for the duties of the day.

Why not learn more about this rapidly growing and natural practice? The "J. B. L. Cascade" is the invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, a specialist of internal baths for 25 years, and is now being shown and explained by Rowley Drug Co., in Santa Ana, who will give you—free on request—an interesting booklet on the subject called "Why Man of To-day Is Only 50 Per Cent. SUNBURY, Pa., Oct. 20.—Patriotic potatoes, so far as color is concerned, are being gathered by John Buck from his patch near Rolling Green. He is exhibiting to his friends samples that are red, white and blue potatoes. He explains that he planted a number of blue variety of seed potatoes with some of a pure white variety. The breed mixed and a hybrid that plainly showed a red, white and blue skin resulted. He says he will name the new variety for President Wilson if he can succeed in propagating them next year.

THE CITY LIBRARY
Many useful books for study by business men are to be found on the shelves of the Santa Ana library. In segregating these books and issuing a list of them, the librarian has done a service that the business men of the city will appreciate. New methods, new ideas, new systems of accounting—many things are discussed in these books. A business man may be fully satisfied that his own methods are just what he wants, but even if he is satisfied with his methods he will find a discussion of methods deeply interesting.
The issuance of the list emphasizes the fact that Santa Ana's library is a well-balanced library. In building it up, Miss McFadden, the librarian, has endeavored to develop its usefulness as a reference library, to make it of some consequence in the work of students.
The co-operation of the library with the schools and with the various clubs of the city has enhanced its value as a public institution. The time is coming, and cannot be long delayed, when Santa Ana must have larger quarters for its library. It has earned, through public service in a dependable way, the consideration of the city for whatever funds are needed for its adequate development.

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross is set for November 2 to 11, and chapters all over the country are preparing to make a drive for members. It is hoped to have this year's membership equal last year's, when 23,000,000 people in the United States joined the Red Cross in the Christmas drive.
In the Christmas drive Santa Ana chapter increased its membership from 3100 to 6100, and it is the desire of local committees that the new roll call will give the chapter a membership of fully as much as was secured last year.
The membership fee is $1. Half of the money paid for memberships will go direct to Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., for use in the work of the organization. The other half will be retained in the treasury of the local chapter for use in caring for families of soldiers, for meeting whatever emergencies may arise, such as an influenza epidemic, and for assisting in whatever local charity work may be approved under application to division headquarters.
The American Red Cross did a great work during the war, and since the war its work has been of tremendous consequence in reconstruction work throughout war-ridden countries and foreign lands where industries and resources left many thousands of people homeless and starving. There is a great work still remaining for it to do. Through its far-reaching arms, many thousands of sufferers are to find relief. Many thousands of hungry men, women and children are to be fed and clothed. All over this wide world, where there is widespread suffering, there will the American Red Cross be found, if it is possible for its representatives to reach that place.
The American Red Cross is a wonderful organization. It must continue to have the support of the great body of the people of America. Through it the people of America will speak in encouraging terms to the weak and tottering.

Red Cross workers all over Orange county next month will have an opportunity to show that in peace, as well as in war, they fully appreciate the great mothering spirit of the American Red Cross.

CAR SHORTAGE
The car shortage is a serious thing for citrus growers of this section, and the outlook has not been improving. With trees full of fruit that ought to be picked, packing operations are held back because cars for shipping are not available.
A dispatch from Fresno states that well-informed shippers estimate the loss this season in the Fresno district due to car shortage at $3,000,000. It is estimated that the table grape men of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, including the Lodi district, will sustain losses ranging from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 owing to the lack of cars.
Taking California over, the car shortage seems to be playing havoc. Oregon, however, is reporting that it has all the cars it needs for handling the apple crop. A dispatch from Wenatchee, Wash., says that 125 carloads of apples are moving out every day from that district, and there is no car shortage there.

Is California getting a square deal in the distribution of cars? If not, we ought to know it, and bring the pressure to bear that will relieve the situation.
The Congregational and Christian churches in San Jacinto to be united. This announcement causes the Riverside Press to say: "That is a fine step towards religious efficiency and might well be followed by a score of other churches in the county, including some in the city of Riverside."

Impudent Request
Fresno Republican
The United States Brewers' Association has presented a particularly impudent petition to President Wilson. They ask him to veto the bill for the enforcement of wartime prohibition, and to recommend a bill for the enforcement of constitutional prohibition only, when that goes into effect. Presumably they would want even that bill so drafted as to make its enforcement ineffective as against their particular product.
War time prohibition is now a law. Whether the law is wise or foolish, just or unjust, it is at least the law. Congress has passed it and the Supreme Court has sustained it. Congress has refused to repeal it, or to authorize President Wilson to suspend it. It may be suspended automatically, by its own provisions and by the President's proclamation as soon as the Senate ratifies the treaty, but meantime it is the law. The brewers do not ask the President to take any steps to unmake that law. They know he can not, except by the consent of Congress, and that Congress will not consent. So they merely ask him to veto the bill providing the machinery and the money for the enforcement of the law. It shall still be against the law to sell liquor, but the machinery and the money to enforce the law, shall prevent the enforcement of this, by refusing to permit Congress to provide the means for enforcing it.
Of course, if any such action by the President were conceivable, Congress would promptly pass the bill over the President's veto. There are votes enough in both houses to do it. And the matter may not be practically very important anyway, since there are only three months before constitutional prohibition goes into effect, and war-time prohibition is not likely to be in force for more than one, or at most two, of the three months. But the essential lawlessness of the request is significant.

Solves Problem
Sacramento Union
We have grown accustomed to looking toward Australia for the most progressive forms of industrial legislation and now our eyes are turned to our neighbor nearer home for some light on the question of restricting undesirable immigration.
Canada has succeeded in barring Asiatics absolutely without mentioning race or country. Apparently the Canadian legislators have solved a difficulty which has proved the greatest handicap to our efforts to find a solution for our immigration problem in this state. Thinking people do not want to create at this time either racial or international issue over the domestic question of immigration.
There must be discrimination in settling this problem, just as a man must discriminate as to the people invited into his own home. A nation ought to be able to exercise such discrimination without subjecting itself to the charge of favoritism. It should be sufficient to assert that we are a white nation and intend to remain so. Apparently this is the basis of the Canadian law, which states that immigration of any race or nationality may be forbidden or limited in number for a stated period or permanently the landing in Canada of immigrants, belonging to any race or nationality, or of any special class or occupation, for economic reasons or "because such immigrants are deemed unsuitable or undesirable owing to their peculiar habits, customs, modes of life, and methods of holding property, and because of their probable inability to become readily assimilated or to assume the duties and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship within a reasonable time after their entry."
The law is comprehensive and drastic enough to keep out undesirables, while a large loophole is left for the admission of the class of immigrants deemed desirable. As now applied no immigrant labor either skilled or unskilled is allowed to enter Canada. The moment that country needs desirable immigration the door can be open to the extent desired.
Our national legislators as well as our state authorities will do well to study this legislation as providing a working basis for the immigration law now much needed by this country.

Offensive Terms
Bakersfield Californian
Secretary Daniels has issued an order that the term "Gobs" shall no longer be officially applied to the men in the navy. Let us hope that neither will it be unofficially applied. It is, as the secretary says, an ugly name. And what is more, it is a silly one, one that means nothing when used in connection with the neat sailor boys who look to be what they are, the upstanding defenders of the nation in a department that is the pride of every American.
"Gobs," indeed! It's a marvel that anyone, anywhere, ever used the term. The sight of it in print is about as pleasant as a pile of rubbish on the front lawn and the sound is as offensive as would be a pan of dishwater dashed in one's face.
The remarkable thing about the conference of capital, labor and the public at Washington is that the mere public has a look-in.

The trouble is that each class in America thinks that the salvation of the country depends upon its successes in getting its own way.

Value of Kindergartens
(By P. P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education)

That the great world war will be followed by years of agitation and change in which all institutions of government, including our own, will be tried and tested severely, is already evident from what is now taking place both in Europe and in America.
Intelligent democracy is the only protection against reaction toward autocracy on the one side and class rule, disintegration, and anarchy on the other.
Our American democracy, the hope of the world, demands universal education of the best type—education of all for freedom, initiative, self-restraint, co-operation, and obedience to law.
It is significant that the kindergarten did not receive governmental approval in Germany, because of this very fact of its spirit of democracy, and that Froebel looked to America for the attainment of his ideals in education.
For all our young children, both of native born and of foreign born parentage, and especially for the latter, kindergarten schools should be provided, either by public or by private support. Our millions of children of kindergarten age should no longer be deprived of the training which the kindergarten gives in industry, loyalty, patriotism, and the social virtues which are so essential in our political, social, and industrial democracy.
I should like to urge all school officers and all citizens who are interested in the welfare of the people and in the permanency and fullest development of our democracy to use their influence for the establishment and maintenance of kindergartens for all children.

Worth While Verses
SWEETHEART, GOODBYE

Sweetheart, goodbye! The fluttering sail
Is spread to waft me far from thee,
And soon the bounding gale
My ship shall bound upon the sea.
Perchance, all desolate and forlorn,
These eyes shall miss thee many a year,
But unforgettably every charm;
Though lost to sight, to memory dear.
Sweetheart, goodbye! one last embrace!
O cruel Fate, true souls to part!
Yet shalt thou ever find a place,
Thou, thou alone, within this heart;
And still shall recollection trace
In Fancy's mirror, ever near,
Each smile, each tear that form, that face

ALBERT

Stalwart frame and kingly spirit,
Flinching not at adverse fate,
Soul of Truth thou dost inherit—
These combine to make thee great.

On thy soil the feet of strangers!
At thy throat the mailed hand!
Never hast thou quailed at dangers,
Nor betrayed thy stricken land!

Welcome, Albert! We acclaim thee!
Though the kingly line departs,
Grateful people still shall name thee

Ruler, in the realm of hearts!

Surprising Story

A woman of unusual charm and no little dramatic ability, the state president of the U. D. C., Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Douglas, took the small audience seated around the table at the luncheon given Saturday in her honor by the officers of the local Emma Sansom chapter, into the old land of the South and of the story books, and made it live again. Bringing them back to the present with more deeply kindled interest and burning enthusiasm imparted from her own strong personality.

The visit of Mrs. Douglas completely dispensed the erroneous idea of the U. D. C. as existing purely as a social organization, for their work is carried on quietly and unobtrusively among themselves and consequently not generally known.

"The South was the Belgium and France of the world war," said Mrs. Douglas. "They had the battle fields, and also the sufferings and privations, but unlike those countries, they had no one to help in the reconstruction, and it was the realization of this great need that brought into being the United Daughters of the Confederacy."

It was at the close of a great war when the organization came into birth, founded by descendants of Confederate veterans who knew and felt the needs of the Southern people as only one of their kind can do. It was for the purpose of relieving the suffering by furnishing necessities to the orphans and widows who had no pensions to rely on. For erecting monuments and collecting of historical data, chapters were former wherever Southern women gathered together in any number and at the present time there are chapters in thirty-five states and a total membership of one hundred thousand in the United States.

They carry on a work entirely independent of any other organization and a work no one else has done.

Their efforts are for the Confederates, soldiers or descendants and for educational purposes alone, they average $75,000 a year. They furnish scholarships for an average of 500 young people each year and in some cases, where the student lives at home, they supply money for clothes or books. People receiving this aid have had their applications presented by some member of the U. D. C. who personally knows the case to be a worthy one.

They had their part in the world war also, and played it well, the general organization of the U. D. C. was the first woman's organization to offer its entire services to the President and proud were they indeed, when he wired back: "Organize for war activities."

Knowing so well what the fearful word, "war," stood for, they threw their hearts and souls into their work, resulting in accomplishments little short of the miraculous.

In an incomplete account of the work of the general organization, at the close of the war, it was learned that 70 hospital beds were maintained in the base hospital at Neuilly, France, at a cost of $600 each and a total cost of $42,000 a year; two and a half million dollars of W. S. S. were purchased by chapter members, one and one-half millions of the third Liberty loan were owned by members and 23 millions had been sold. In the fourth Liberty loan $4,700,000 were owned and 30 1/2 million were sold; 93,000 Red Cross articles were knitted by members and 82,000 were contributed by the chapters to the Red Cross. Eight hundred French and Belgian orphans were supported at a cost of $79,000 a year and besides numerous other charities and services they filed the records of 5,000 men, descendants of Confederates who served in the world war.

Those are a few of the facts and figures Mrs. Douglas related, which give an insight into the "inner workings" of the U. D. C. in general. And, as she explained, they are sadly incomplete for the records and reports from a number of chapters had not been received, as well as any number from individual workers.

It was a wonderful story she told and following the luncheon the local officers with the guest, adjourned to the home of Mrs. T. J. Haughton, where the members were privileged to hear more of the work and plans of the organization.

Not for Musicians Only

There is one thing that Clarence Gustlin, as president of the Santa Ana Musical Association, would like to have well understood, and that is the fact that the association is open to the general public for membership and not alone to musicians.

The splendid series of concerts which is planned for this year cannot be presented unless the music-loving public and the business men of the city back up the efforts of the directors of the association.

Such an organization means much to the welfare and growth of the city, to its standing and rank among other cities of its size, and every citizen of Santa Ana who understands in the least degree the value of good music aside from its mere entertainment qualities will get behind the "Santa Ana, city of good music" movement and boost with a vim.

The first concert of the series will be given a week from tonight in the First Congregational church by Mischa Lhevinne, eminent pianist, and Estelle Gray, well-known violinist. It will be a concert which everyone can appreciate and will enjoy and the church should be packed to hear these popular artists.

Membership tickets may be had at the First National Bank, the Summer Shop or from Mr. Gustlin at the high school. These admit the holder to the full season's program of seven concerts and are very low in price.

Third Section Economics

The third section of the Household Economics met Friday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. W. L. Leiby of Tustin. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, and the minutes read by the new secretary, Mrs. Dobson. After a short business meeting the program was turned over to the hostesses, Mrs. C. F. Bennett read a paper on the subject, Community Problems. It being a big subject, her paper and talk was instructive as well as interesting, and was followed by a discussion.

Mrs. E. H. Prince read an article on Community Homes for Foreigners, how they can be Americanized, taught habits of cleanliness, thrift and sanitation.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up with cutting and piecing quilts for the Day Nursery.

During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Wakeham and Mrs. Leiby, served light refreshments. The November meeting will be held with Mrs. Stockslager and the subject is Thanksgiving and How to Observe Them.

Family Gathering

A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Q. Phipps Sunday affording an opportunity to visit with Mrs. Phipps, who returned Friday from a two months' eastern trip.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. George Long, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mayer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Browne and baby, Messrs. Charles Wilbur and Remus Phipps.

Pleasant Sunday Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pine and daughters, Charlotte and Cleora, Mrs. Louise Waite, Mrs. Olive Lopez and Alonzo Lopez had a delightful trip yesterday to Elsinore.

They stopped at Corona for mass, which is held in a hall, the Catholics being engaged in building a beautiful new church.

A feature at Elsinore was a fifteen-mile trip around Elsinore lake. The trip was made through Santa Ana canyon and return made through Riverside, Pomona and Brea Canyon.

Attractive Show

A few of the close friends of Miss Hilda Gibbons, who is to become the bride of John Ragan of Orange, in the near future, were invited to the home of Miss Rena Cranston Saturday afternoon, to participate in a shower in her honor.

The girls spent an enjoyable afternoon with their fancy work in the comfortable summer house and later were called into the house to be served with light refreshments at a charmingly arranged table. A white parasol covered with pink crepe paper, was upturned and suspended from the chandelier and from it, streamers of the ripply paper were fastened at each place where were also dainty little French bouquets. A large kewpie in a perky pink dress, surrounded with the same flowers in the bouquets centered the table.

The shower was a surprise for Miss Gibbons and not until she was invited to "go fishing" did she discover the use of the several small ribbons dangling in front of her and falling from the parasol and which were attached to the gifts her friends hope she will find some use for in her new home.

Further entertainment was given the girls by Miss Cranston, who whistled several numbers and Miss Nellie Irvine, who was prevailed upon to play for them.

Those who enjoyed the visit with Miss Gibbons were Mrs. J. A. Cranston, Mrs. Nelson McArthur, Mrs. Charles Schultz, Misses Nellie Irvine, Stella Anderson, Helen Phillips and the hostess, Miss Rena Cranston.

For Bride and Groom

A surprise shower for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt, a recent bride and groom, was planned and carried out by Miss Clara Larzelere and Willis Hunt Saturday evening.

The couple was invited to the home of the bride's parents at 1201 East First street for dinner and while they were unconcernedly visiting together, their friends entered the home in a group, showering them with many useful and attractive presents.

Following the excitement of surprised greetings, the guests enjoyed an evening of music and games and were later served with a light supper.

The large wedding cake, baked by W. D. Baker, was designed in white roses and doves and was an appropriate and beautiful confection.

Present were Messrs. and Mmes. Frank A. Hunt, Russell Moore, Stinzel, T. Daniels, Carl Mock, Mrs. Jane Hunt and son Willis; Misses Andree and Bernice Pond, Catherine Jasper, Olive Noble, Brilla Elgan, Bertha Troter, Alma Lalonde, Bertha Trotter, Hattie Larmey, Stone, Mrs. Bish, Mrs. Larzelere and daughter Clara; Messrs. John Mock, Ross Welborn, B. P. Cloward, Archie Adams, Walter Hec, Parks Van Hoy, Ray Echols, Wilbur Payne, Meredith Ham, Herman and John Trotter, Oscar and Lee Larzelere.

The party broke up at a somewhat late hour, everyone wishing the young couple much happiness and a long married life.

Pretty Afternoon Marriage

A wedding of great interest in this city and county was that of Miss Ethel Jane Gardner of this city and Hollis H. Knowlton of Placentia, which occurred late on Saturday afternoon, when Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the first marriage service for a parishioner since his return from France.

The living room, where the double ring service was solemnized, was made beautiful for the happy occasion with delicate pink cosmos and cool ferns in abundance, the marriage being solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. M. Gardner on East Washington avenue, where the winsome bride spent her childhood and the majority of her girlhood.

The dining room was gay with crystal baskets of the flowers which were used to grace the circular table, where the twenty-two relatives and friends were seated for the wedding supper, which followed the shower of congratulations.

The couple was unattended and preceded the ceremony and immediately after, the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. S. Price, of Los Angeles, sang several appropriate numbers.

The bride made a charming picture in her filmy white gown with a misty veil, fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a lovely bouquet of bride roses, which was captured by Miss Ruth Knowlton.

Misses Mildred Mansur and Louise Lauritzen assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton are spending their honeymoon at beautiful Laguna Beach and will make their home at Placentia, where Mr. Knowlton is connected with an oil company.

The bride has been teaching in the city schools of Los Angeles and the many friends of the young couple in Orange county will wish them happiness in their new life.

For Miss Reinhaus

Miss Edna Beatty was hostess Saturday afternoon at a handkerchief shower for Miss Irma Reinhaus.

Needlework and visiting passed the afternoon hours and fortunes were told over "magic" tea cups.

Miss Beatty was assisted during the afternoon by her mother, Mrs. John Beatty.

Included in the guest list were Messdames Max Reinhaus, W. L. Bullard, A. J. Lawton; Misses Pauline Reinhaus, Theresa Reinhaus, Helen Reinhaus, Arvilla Ball, Doris Robbins, Lois Tedford, Verna Peterson, Joella Sharp, Mary Collins, Mildred Mansur, Anne Robinson, Abner and Irene Brooks.

Childhood Romance

The happy culmination of a romance of long standing is that of Miss Ora L. Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons of 1112 West Sixth street, who, on Friday evening, became the bride of Sergeant Roy D. King, a young business man of Gorman, Texas. The ceremony was performed at the home of the groom's brother in Texas.

The romance dates back some seven or eight years ago, having its origin in childhood days, the bride and groom having been born and reared on adjoining ranches back in the old state of Mississippi, attending the same schools, churches and neighborhood social functions, he and her three brothers being the best of chums.

After teaching a couple of terms in Mississippi, she came out to California on a visit, her parents coming a year later to make their home here. Shortly afterward war was declared and the groom enlisted, deferring their marriage till the present time.

They met by mutual agreement at the home of the bride's girlhood chum, Mrs. Winston King, of El Paso, Tex., whose husband is a brother to the groom, and were married there.

Mr. and Mrs. King, after a short trip, will return to their new home in Gorman, Tex.

Double Surprise

A double surprise party was given at the home of Miss Nell Cathcart Friday night, October 17, in honor of Misses Helen Jamison, and Vera Joplin, the occasion being their birthdays. As this is the month for the spooks, the members of the party came masked. Miss Joplin, thinking the party was for her friend, came masked also, and in this way the surprise was carried out for them both.

The house was decorated in orange and black, the lights covered with orange crepe paper with faces in them, and black cats in the different rooms. The graphanola was dressed up in a sheet and was placed in one corner of the room.

After Miss Jamison had gotten over the shock of being surprised, they proceeded to guess each other. She then led the rest of them in a grand march through town, making the followers do what she did.

After unmasking, Hallowe'en games and contests were played and fortunes were told. Miss Marie Gillaspay favored with several selections on the piano, and Miss Jamison and Clyde Cathcart sang.

The "bunch" presented the two girls with a fountain pen apiece to let them know that they were not too old to have birthdays.

The color scheme was carried out in the refreshments, the orange ice cream being served in orange baskets with a black ribbon on the handle, and one cake was chocolate with "Helen" written on it in orange, and the other was orange, with "Vera" written on it in chocolate.

Invited guests were Misses Helen Jamison, Vera Joplin, Marie Gillaspay, Grace Cathcart, Willie Cathcart, Lillian Thomson, Perla Best, Mary McCarter, Anna Torrrens, Mrs. Carl Sterrett, Cleo Morrison; Messrs. Kenneth Stowe, Herman Trotter, Albert McCarter, Bernard Caulfield, Will Cathcart, Andrew Thompson, Floyd Ketch, David Nelson, Carl Sterrett, Clyde Cathcart, David Smith.

MEXICANS THINK THEY ONLY ARE HAVING QUIET

Interesting Letter Is Written From Sinaloa By A. M. McDermott

Down in Sinaloa, Mex., the people think that all of the world is full of riots and disturbances excepting Mexico. Down there they are congratulating themselves upon having things quiet and peaceful.

That is the sentiment that A. M. McDermott of Santa Ana, has discovered in his travels. McDermott left here recently for Mexico to open up mines and put up a smelter for a mining company, of which he is superintendent. Fuerte is his headquarters.

"It is extremely interesting to read the local papers here," writes McDermott from Culiacan, Sinaloa, Mexico, on October 12.

"By local papers I mean native publications, which are few and so far as I have learned there are but two such in the State of Sonora, and I believe two in Sinaloa.

"There is so much in these papers about disturbances in Europe and Asia, about race riots, strikes, lynchings and political quarrelling in the United States, that the people believe every country save this is on the verge of revolution. Indeed, one American who has been in here for three years continuously, said to me in good faith that it looks as if the incorrigible element was getting in control everywhere except in Mexico.

"The papers here have frequent criticisms of the Monroe Doctrine and emphasize the antagonism of the Senate to the League of Nations so that the readers believe President Wilson stands almost alone in fighting for the league.

"As I read these summaries of all the disturbing events that are taking place it makes me wish that parallel with it could be a summary of the good and encouraging and progressive activities that are taking place so that pessimism might be changed to rejoicing and the spirit of unrest and antagonism to one of co-operation.

"Since arriving in Mexico I have been traveling around so much that I have not been able to keep in touch with world happenings. I have not even seen a copy of the Register since I left home, although I expect and hope there are a goodly number awaiting my return to Fuerte, which will be sometime this week.

"Being behind time in getting the news does not worry the people here. I asked a Fuerte business man what he considered the best Mexican paper to take in order to keep posted on current events and he said "El Universal" of the City of Mexico. I asked how long after it was published before it reached Fuerte and he said only ten days or two weeks.

"There are advantages, however, in this lack of hurry, especially in traveling. Coming up from Mazatlan yesterday we were due to meet a south-bound train, and I asked the conductor during the forenoon where we would meet the other train and he said at the siding (naming it) first stop the other side of La Cruz, where we stop for lunch. Then I asked him how long we stopped and he answered "about a minute." "Why?" I said I thought possibly a friend might be on that train and I should like to know. He replied "go through the train and look him up. I'll hold this train for you."

Another conductor told me that they never consider a train late unless it is a full hour or more behind time. A friend told me he was traveling a few days ago and when the train had run about three miles out of a town it stopped and started backing up and went almost back to the town where it picked up one of the brakemen who had been left when the train started and who was leisurely walking out to meet it.

If you give up being in a hurry and reconcile yourself to accommodations available—there are no sleeping coaches run down here—there is probably no better way to see the country and study its contour and vegetation than riding over the country on their through trains at the rate of 12 to 15 miles per hour."

IS THE GRANDEST ON EARTH' SAYS MRS. DALEY

Gains Seventeen Pounds Taking Tanlac—Thought Case Was Hopeless

"They said I couldn't live more than six months longer," said Mrs. Mary Daley of 530 Oak St., San Francisco, Cal., in conversation with a special Tanlac representative, recently, "but I'm still here and am feeling fine.

"I have actually gained seventeen pounds and a half since I began taking Tanlac," she continued, "and to look at me now no one could suppose I had been sick at all. But for several months previous to the time I got Tanlac I couldn't do my housework. I suffered from gastritis all the time, would bloat terribly, and always felt miserable. My appetite was gone and my stomach so weak that I felt nauseated most of the time. I was so nervous the least unusual noise would startle me. I could hardly sleep at all, had night sweats, and so run down and weak that the least exertion would exhaust me completely. I lost weight and kept getting worse until I was told I could not live more than six months at the rate I was going down hill.

"I honestly believe Tanlac is the finest medicine in the world. Nothing helped me until I began taking it and now I am just like a person made over. My appetite is just splendid and I can eat anything I want without the least trouble from it. And I don't think I have ever enjoyed sleeping so well and I always get up mornings feeling thoroughly rested and refreshed. My house has eight rooms but I can now do all the work with ease. Tanlac has certainly been a godsend to me and I feel that I would be ungrateful not to tell others about it."

GOOD WELLS ARE SECURED NEAR WYANA LANDS

Local Oil Adventurers Enthusiastic; Hope to Start Drilling In November

Local people who have subscribed for stock in the Wyana Oil Company to the number of more than thirty, are highly enthusiastic over the prospects for their holdings in the Lost Soldier oil field, Wyoming, following receipt of news that four good wells have recently been brought in near by, including one which produced fifty million cubic feet of gas daily and which is now on fire. And one of the nice things, it is declared, is that a line drawn through the four wells would pass directly across the Wyana property, two wells being on either side of this land. As soon as $15,000 worth of stock has been subscribed, it is stated, the Wyana company will begin drilling, and it is expected the first derrick will be early in November. Already $8500 has been subscribed and it is confidently expected the remainder will be forthcoming within the next two weeks. One local man took $1000 worth of stock, and D. F. Royer, newly-elected vice president of the company, sold $2000 worth to his relatives and friends during a recent trip to South Dakota. Wyoming oil propositions were popular in that state, Royer declares, and he could easily have sold 50,000 shares, but he thought the intention was to hold nearly all the stock in Santa Ana and he turned down several offers to buy. Kenneth Van Slyck is in charge of the subscriptions and is confident that the $15,000 initial goal, enough to sink the first well, will have been subscribed by November 1.

At a meeting of the Wyana directors a few days ago, Bill Cheney was elected president of the company, Royer vice president, Earl Matthews, treasurer, and Ben E. Farver permanent secretary. On next Tuesday a party of local stockholders is scheduled to leave for Wyoming for the purpose, it is stated, of buying other lands adjoining the Wyana's present holdings.

OLIVE SCHOOLS OPEN IN NEW BUILDING

Term Is Late In Starting Because of Work on Structure

OLIVE, Oct. 20.—The new school at Olive was opened today. It is not entirely completed but, owing to the shortage of men to work on the building, the children of Olive have been kept waiting longer than was planned before taking up their duties in the new building. It is possible at the present time to provide the necessary accommodations for the children and arrangements will be made to give the full course of study even though the school opens later.

Comfort and beauty have been the governing factors throughout the work of planning and building the school which is of the mission style made of tiling. There are at present four rooms, a room for the teachers and a library.

The grounds will be set out to trees, lawn and flowers grouped to make an effective setting for the building. One of the most modern and best heating systems, the Bremerton has been installed in the school at an expense of about $2000. The building itself will cost approximately $16,000 when completed.

C. C. Smith, who was supervising principal in Orange some years ago, later moved to Fullerton where he acted as principal, is principal of the school. Miss Hitchcock of Los Angeles is to have charge of the intermediate department and Mrs. Muer of Perris will supervise the primary department.

Plans are under way to give a jolly house warming as soon as the building is completed.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

PASADENA, Oct. 20.—Ranger A. J. Miller of Big Santa Anita, canyon is an uncommonly lucky man. He had a witness along when he killed a big mountain wildcat, from a distance of fifty feet by throwing a stone at the animal. Moreover, the witness is Miller's superior officer, Chief Ranger Thomas W. Sloan of Pasadena.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 20.—The Jewish Society of this city plans to purchase a site for a building. A committee of five has been named to consider the selection of a location. Jews and means for putting up a Jewish Society structure will be taken up shortly.

VENTURA, Oct. 20.—Manager Churchill of the California Lima Bean Association gives out facts concerning the production in this part of the state. This year 500,000 bags have been produced as against 1,700,000 last year. There are 125,000 acres in beans this year as against 145,000 acres last year. The decrease in bean acreage is due to the fact that sugar beet growing contracts are so attractive this year many ranchers have been induced to change crops.

PASADENA, Oct. 20.—Girls of the Pasadena High School, it was learned today, are quietly circulating a petition among themselves, asking to be allowed to participate in the work for mountain reforestation which is being carried on by boys of the institution. The girls ask permission to go to the hills in groups to gather seeds which will be used in planting the recently burned areas.

UPLAND, Oct. 20.—Time-worn jokes concerning the passing of the collection plate are passe at the Upland Presbyterian church. There is no collection plate. For the first time in the history of the church, yesterday ushers failed to traverse the aisles taking in the silver offering. The church is now under a budget system.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 20.—The California League of Municipalities opened a five days' convention here beginning today. It is expected the attendance will be the largest in the history of the organization. Mayors and other city officials from every section of the state are reaching here on every train. Routine business, sightseeing trips and banquets make up the program.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 20.—Sewer, water and gas pipelines must be adjusted to meet conditions brought about by the construction of the proposed flood control channel through this city. A siphon under the flood control channel will be used, it has been stated, to get the city's main outfall sewer system across the waterway. Water pipes probably will be placed on a bridge crossing the channel at Ocean boulevard, while gas pipes will cross on either the Ocean boulevard or Seventh street bridge.

BANFF, Can., Oct. 20.—Bert Thompson stopped with some of the boys for a little while on his way home from work. It was dark when he climbed on to the bicycle and began pedalling hard to get home in time for supper. He had a fleeting glance of a dark object ahead just a second before he struck it and was thrown to the pavement. When he sat up, rubbing his head, a big grizzly bear was looking down at him. Bert said they both sat down for several seconds and looked at each other and then both went away from that place as fast as they could.

HERMIT GETS ANNUAL BATH, SHAVE, HAIRCUT

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 20.—John May, aged hermit, who lives in a dilapidated shack in the river bottoms here, has been given his annual haircut, shave and bath. The police did the tonsorial act and also administered the scrubbing. It took several of the cops to do it, for John is a strong man and put up a determined struggle throughout the performance. He went to the police station with grizzly hair and beard which reached almost to his waist. He came away with a smooth face and head smelling like a high-priced toilet water.

John makes his living by mending tinware and his customers did not recognize him when he came around the next day.

"It's not my fault, lady," said John as one of the women failed to recognize him. "Them loafing cops are what did it."

John got his first haircut, shave and bath in twenty years last year, when the policeman ran him in and trimmed him up.

FULLERTON WITH O. K. PASS WINS BY 41 TO 0

Forward Relay Play Principal Stock In Trade of Oil
Well Men

The Fullerton eleven stepped on the Santa Ana Warriors 41 to 0 last Saturday because they were able to work the forward pass to perfection.
Time after time the Fullerton men worked it for gains of from 10 to 30
and 40 yards and the Santa Ana side seemed to be helpless before it. The success of the forward pass was mainly due to Arch Hawkins, the Fullerton right half, who was a demon at passing the ball. Because of his ability to pass the ball such a great distance, he could run back, thus giving the ends and backfield men a chance to get down the field and scatter.
Then he would throw the ball, in some cases half the length of the field, and there was almost always some one there to catch it.

Outside of the forward pass, however, Santa Ana displayed the best game. Again and again Fullerton would try line plunges, but couldn't begin to make yards. Their fake plunges through the line, which has netted them so many yards in the past, was an absolute failure. Until the last quarter they made little by end runs. At bucking the line Santa Ana showed up a little better than Fullerton, but the advantage was not great enough to get down to within striking distance of the goal.

First Touchdown

The play started with Fullerton kicking off to Santa Ana's 20-yard line. Three line plunges were tried which netted 5 yards and Santa Ana punted. John Hawkins received the punt and ran the ball back to Santa Ana's 35 yard line. Here they tried three line plunges which put them one yard ahead. Fullerton then completed a 30 yard pass from Arch
to John Hawkins, which laid the ball on Santa Ana's 4 yard line. Two line bucks by Smith and Jones took the ball over for the first touchdown and John Hawkins converted, making the score 7 to 0 in favor of Fullerton.

Santa Ana next kicked off to Full-erton's 22 yard line, where Fullerton punted because she failed to make yards to their own 45 yard line. Fullerton was penalized 20 yards for tackling Coffman when he signaled for a free catch, which put Santa Ana on Fullerton's 25 yard line. They were thrown for a loss and Taylor tried a goal from the 30 yard line, which went far enough, but was too wide. From here on to the latter part of the first half nothing threatening happened
and it began to look as if it were going to be a close game. Fullerton got her deadly pass into operation again and the score was 14 to 0 in their favor.
No more scoring was done that half.

Two Men Out

During the third quarter the Santa Anas put up a determined fight and prevented any scoring. But the team was shot all to pieces. Taylor had to be taken out of the first part because his shoulder began to bother him.
Just before the end of the quarter
Spangler was badly hurt, and Best
had to be sent in to take his place.

This sent the team all to pieces.
At the first of the last quarter Coffman was replaced by Taylor, because the team had no one who could punt after Spangler was taken out. He put up a determined fight but it was plainly visible that he could do little and was replaced. This so disrupted the team that Fullerton was able to get her forward pass to working again, and she made another touchdown. On the next kickoff Arch Hawkins received the ball and with some excellent interference ran 75 yards for another touchdown. They made two more touchdowns that quarter directly due to forward passes and the game ended with Fullerton 41 points to the good.

Until the last quarter, the Santa Ana men put up an even fight. Spangler played a hard and excellent game.
He out-punted his opponent, John Hawkins, by 10 or 15 yards every time he kicked. Howard Cock played a smashing game at full, and at line
plunging easily outdid his opponent, Jones.

Stafford Valuable Man

Stafford at end certainly proved himself a valuable man. He was in every play and caused Fullerton no small amount of trouble. Brown at tackle surpassed all expectations. He broke through the line and blocked
many a play, being in a large measure responsible for the success of the line.

"Football Blues" Is Song for Several Eastern Colleges

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Several big eastern colleges have new college songs. They are singing the "football blues." Chanting a mo-notone, the followers of many of the select circle are sitting in on a watch at the deathbed of 1919 hopes.

Yale, Pittsburg and Cornell top the list of the new incuners. After Saturday's tragedy there was only one bright ray on their camous—their idols died fighting.
The trio of victorious dope upsetsters, Boston college, Syracuse and Colgate, are reveling in their fame that attends their elevation into the circle of the season's best.

Despondency nearest describes the feeling prevailing at Yale. Eli not only chafes at the humiliation of a defeat by Boston college, which Harvard beat 17 to 0, but bemoans the fate which has robbed the New Haven eleven of several stars through injuries.

Harvard has no defeat to worry
over but the Crimson followers
are not very jubilant in the narrow 7 to 0 victory over Brown, for it gives Colgate a "paper decision" over Cambridge.

Wild Hog Tries To Attack 2 Men and Is Shot To Death

IRVINE, Oct. 20.—Considerable excitement followed the appearance of a wild hog at the ranch of Hiram Whistler, in the Laguna hills, southwest of Irvine.
Whistler jumped on a horse and gave chase but the hog turned on him. Whistler decided his horse was not fast enough to escape a possible charge by the animal so he turned back to get another horse.

While he was gone the hog disappeared and soon afterwards
sauntered leisurely into the yard of Oscar Wilson. Mr. Wilson, hearing a noise, stepped to the door and the hog made a rush
at him. Wilson jumped back, closed the door and procured a shotgun. He went out and shot the hog five times in the head with heavy charges of shot before he killed it. The hog was two and one-half feet high.

E. JOHNSON TO BE AT BANQUET FOR CRAVATH

Stage Is Set For Big Affair In Gold Room at James'
Tonight

With the certainty of at least thirty ardent Santa Ana baseball fans attending, the banquet to be given at James' tonight in honor of C. C. (Garvy) Cravath, manager of the Philadelphia National League ball club, promises to be an unqualified success.

The banquet is to begin promptly at 6:30. It is to be held in the Gold room at James'.

Attorney J. C. Burke, one of Santa Ana's most enthusiastic supporters of the national pastime, is to be toastmaster and it is expected that under his guidance enough baseball yarns will be spun to warm the heart of the most taciturn "bug."

Cravath returned last week from a hunting trip in Humboldt county.

Tonight's affair is in charge of Victor Walker, sporting goods dealer, and Robert Gromm, proprietor of the White Cross cigar stand.

Ernie Johnson, of the Salt Lake baseball club, was in Santa Ana for a few minutes today—just long enough to inform Walker that he would be "among those present" at tonight's banquet. Thus, there will be two managers at the affair, instead of one as originally planned, for Johnson or Saturday was appointed playing manager of the Salt Lake Bees.
He had no sooner been appointed than he started for Laguna, where he will be staying the remainder of the winter.
He was en route there when he stopped off here. Johnson is a whirlwind in baseball and extremely popular with the Coast League fans. He will be given a royal welcome at tonight's banquet.

days, according to word received by friends here today. Efforts are being made to secure his services on a winter league ball team to play in various coast cities.

ORANGE FIGHTS SAN DIEGO TO STANDSTILL

Plays Classic Defensive Game
Throughout, With a Score 0 to 0

White Fullerton was here Saturday
rapping the Santa Ana team from all sides to a 41 to 0 victory, the Orange high school squad was putting up the defensive battle of its life against the crack team from San Diego and held the game to a goose-egg score for both sides.

Playing a game that will stand as a school classic of defensive football,
the Orange high school eleven held the heavy and powerful San Diego eleven and fought the visitors to a standstill. Neither team could score.

As an exhibition of good football
the battle was not notable, but as an example of sheer gameness by a team outweighed at every point, it was something that football followers who witnessed the game will remember.
Playing largely inside the Orange 30-yard line, the San Diego team was unable to put the ball over during any of the four quarters, and when the end came, Orange for almost the first time had the ball in San Diego territory and was making gains. In the third period Orange recovered the ball on a fumble on its own two-yard line and kicked to safety. It was the close call of the game to a score.

San Diego could gain but little against the Orange line, although outweighing Orange in the line on an average of fifteen pounds. The visitors' gains came largely through successful forward passes, which they used freely at all stages.

On the other hand, Orange could gain only through the line, the San Diego ends being invulnerable and their defense proof against forward passes. By his steady kicking, Kuechel of Orange kept the ball away from his own goal and contributed much to stopping the San Diego attack.

In defensive play, Bird of Orange, as center played a stellar role. The lanky lineman broke up many San Diego plays at critical stages.

PERRY N. SCHURR RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

Former Santa Anan Won a Commission For Gallantry, and D. S. C.; Wounded

Bearing scars from several wounds, a commission won for gallantry on the field of battle and recommendation for a Distinguished Service Cross, Lieutenant Perry N. Schurr has returned to his home in Stockton, according to word received by County Jailor Budde Lacy. Schurr was for several years an employee of the Southern California Edison Company in Santa Ana and Lacy is one of the many friends he made while here. Schurr was in the First Gas Regiment, Company C, originally the Thirtieth Engineers, and served on the front line from Ypres to the Swiss border and won renown at St. Mihiel, Chateau-Thierry and in the Argonne. This regiment established a record for speed, being in action ninety days after organization and six weeks after landing in France. Also in the Argonne it established a continuous service record by being at the front during 39 of the 42 days of the Argonne offensive, with eleven casualties of officers and 174 enlisted men. Schurr is a veteran of two wars, having served in the Philippines and in the Boxer uprising in China. He was in Company E, Ninth Regiment, during the Spanish war and was one of only fourteen men left in his company when that war was over.

Won Commission Under Fire
After enlisting in Stockton for the world war, Schurr was made a sergeant on January 1, 1918, a first class sergeant on February 9, 1918, and on October 20 was honorably discharged from the ranks to accept a commission dated October 21. This commission was won on October 18, as was also the Distinguished Service Cross, when he rescued wounded comrades under heavy machine gun fire, and when he was gassed. A shell exploded within five feet of Schurr but did him no harm. It killed five of his comrades and wounded others. His "tin hat" and gas mask handicapped him while in the work of rescue, so without thought for himself Schurr discarded these in order to effect the rescue. The former Santa Anan had previously been wounded three times, by a gas shell splinter at St. Mihiel on September 13, a machine gun bullet through his wrist of September 30 and a gas shell fragment in the head on October 4. Schurr also enlisted the front line by carrying a flag secured from a "Y" man and hoisting it above Hill 253 close to Vauquois. Schurr has a good word for the "Y" and says it is unfortunate that the inexperience and bad judgment of a few men won the organization the displeasure of so many troops.

BEGINS HEARING ON SHOOTING LAW WRIT

Judge to Decide Today If Anaheim Man Is Being Legally Held.

Declaring that the section of the new motor vehicle law prohibiting road shooting is not germane to the motor vehicle act, and that it was slipped into the law, Attorney Walter Eden this afternoon made a strong plea for the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the people vs Walter Heitshusen. He declared that it is not germane to the regulation of automobiles and automobile traffic, and as evidence supporting his contention that the paragraph was slipped into the act pointed to the fact that it is not mentioned in the title of the act.

Hearing on the application for the writ is before Judge Williams. Hunters all over Southern California are watching the proceedings in this case with a great deal of interest, for it is a test of the legality of provision against shooting on public highways.

Heitshusen was arrested Thursday by George W. Sloop, a deputy sheriff of Anaheim. The officer was with Heitshusen at the time the latter selected a spot in the middle of a road and fired his shotgun into the air.

Following Heitshusen's formal arrest, he came before Justice John B. Cox. A plea of not guilty was entered. The court levied a fine of $5, which Heitshusen refused to pay. A commitment to jail was issued.

Attorney Koepsel made application for the writ of habeas corpus, which was granted Friday by Judge Williams, who made the writ returnable today.

A fund to try out the legality of the clause in the motor vehicle act prohibiting the discharge of firearms on public highways was raised by a number of Anaheim men, who secured the services of Attorney Koepsel. The proceedings were instituted with a view to breaking the law, which was slipped through the legislature by the gun clubs, who have been trying to get legislation that would prevent hunters from shooting on roads near their clubs.

CITY OFFICIALS OF STATE IN RIVERSIDE

Convention of League of California Municipalities Opens Today

With discussion of subjects pertaining to the management and conduct of a municipality as the principal feature, the convention of the League of California Municipalities opened today in Riverside at the Mission Inn. It is expected at least 200 delegates from various incorporated cities in the state will be in attendance. The conference will last throughout the week, with a banquet at Mission Inn scheduled for Wednesday evening. There will be interesting exhibits of machinery used in municipality work, the display of the heavier machinery being on a lot opposite the Mission Inn, while the smaller exhibits will be held in the basement of the Congregational church. Everything included in public welfare work will be included in the latter exhibit. The public service exhibition promises to be a feature that will attract everyone interested in public improvements, such as street lighting, sewerage, electric lighting, water distribution, etc.

A number of officials from the various cities of Orange County will be in attendance. Dr. J. L. Clark and Sanitary Inspector Chandler have been delegated by the city council to represent this city.

Major Marks, City Attorney of Fullerton, was on today's program, leading the discussion on "Municipal Revenues."

YOUTH IN CLOTHES OF WOMAN FOUND DEAD

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The police maintained today that John W. Lemko, 21, committed suicide; his relatives were equally certain he was murdered.

The boy's body, clad in women's clothes, a gingham house dress, long silk stockings, corset and lingerie, was found last night on the deck of his power boat near his home off College Point.

His hands were tied behind his back with ropes and his legs were bound. A piece of oil cloth covered his head and was secured about his neck with a short piece of rope. A bottle containing a virulent poison was found nearby but there were no burns about his face to indicate he had swallowed any.

A preliminary examination indicated the boy had been strangled.

Protest Purchase of Placentia Lot For Liberty Purpose

PROTESTING against the purchase of a lot in the town of Placentia for library purposes, a number of taxpayers of the Placentia library district today filed a petition with the board of supervisors, asking that the supervisors direct that all bids submitted to the board of directors of the district be rejected and that the directors be directed to re-advertise for bids.

The petitioners state in their communication to the supervisors that the purchase of the lot in question is unsatisfactory to them for the alleged reason that the property is situated on the brink of a drainage canal and that it borders the canal on one front corner. The lot is called undesirable and is declared to be very expensive property to prepare for a library site.

NABBED IN RAID 9 ACCUSED OF GAMBLING

Officers Swoop Down Upon Card Game on Ranch Near Garden Grove

As the result of a raid made on a card game on the B. F. Townsend ranch, one and a half miles north of Garden Grove, Bernardo Castillo, Manuel Iglesias, Peliz Ybarra, Marcello Guerrero, A. Salazar, Ramon Dedanda, Defino Jimenez, Ignacio Luque and John Doe Saballa were in justice court today, charged with gambling.

The raid was conducted by Sheriff C. E. Jackson, Under Sheriff Iman and Deputies Eels and Holbrook. Twenty-seven dollars in silver and currency, a quantity of poker chips and several decks of cards were confiscated by the officers.

The alleged gamblers were playing in a tent which, according to Sheriff Jackson, had been set apart by employees on the Townsend walnut ranch, for gambling purposes.

The officers swooped on to the game in a sudden rush. The players scattered rapidly, in an endeavor to dive under the side walls of the tent. Two of the alleged gamblers succeeded in getting away.

When the arraignment began a check showed that Ybarra, Guerra and Salazar were absent. The rest pleaded not guilty and the date of their trial was set for October 24, at 10 o'clock.

This afternoon Jimenez appeared before Justice Cox and changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. The court imposed a fine of $10, which was paid. The remainder of the defendants are out on $10 bail each. Jimenez, Dedanda and Luque spent a night in the county jail, having been unable to secure bail until this morning.

CHARGED WITH CRUELTY

Charged with cruelty to animals, Felipe Cazzares was brought before Justice Cox today and the date of his trial set for October 27, at 2 o'clock. Cazzares was remanded to the county jail, where he is being given treatment for an injured foot. The man stepped on a nail, and this, he says, prevented his taking care of his horse. The complaint against him was sworn to by J. N. Ellis, who lives near Greenville.

FOX BLAMES HIS STATE ON LURE OF WOMAN

I'll Fight to Last Dollar, Says Man In Whirlwind Love Case

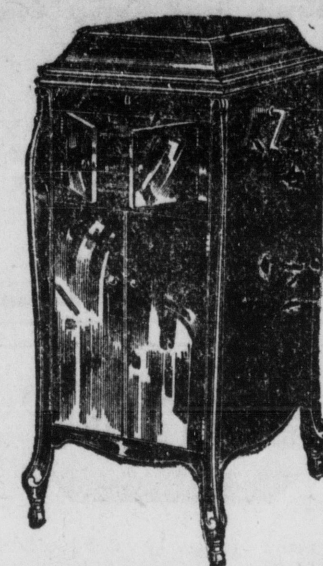

The question of whether George A. Fox, convicted of a charge of embezzling $5106.25 from Mrs. Anna G. Walters, a widow who formerly lived at Anaheim, would appeal the decision of the Appellate court to the Supreme Court of California, still was in doubt today, following a consultation between Fox and his attorney, John L. Richardson, at the Los Angeles county jail, where Fox was lodged after his arrest at Healdsburg on a charge of jumping his $20,000 bonds, on which Fox was released pending the decision of his case in the Appeals court.

"The woman tempted me and I fell," Fox is quoted as saying, after the conference with his counsel. "When she thought I was through with her, she swore to a complaint against me and the jury convicted me. She is outside of jail; I am inside. It is unjust, and I shall fight until my last dollar is spent and my last legal weapon exhausted. My wife and daughter stand with me in my fight for fairness. They realize that I am a man, subject to the temptation of all men and a victim of circumstances."

Fox met Mrs. Walters at Seal Beach, he said. On August 29 Judge Z. B. West of the local Superior court awarded judgment of $75,000 to Mrs. Walters in her suit against Fox over some property near Anaheim. In this action the widow alleged Fox had swindled her out of her ranch. She declared that because of promises to marry her she was induced to sign a quit claim deed to the property. The trial was concluded in the local court on January 9.

A Story Taken from Life

By Mrs. M. Wilkerson, cashier East End Store

Veneta Standfield was an only child. In her parents' home of culture, wealth and refinement, she had been reared with jealous care till her twentieth birthday, when, after a three years' courtship, her father gave her away in wedlock to Jack DeBarr, a rising young lawyer.

Mr. Standfield had planned a gift of a magnificent home to the young couple, which Jack was too high-spirited to accept, preferring to start humbly and work up. So, as our story appears, we find them, happy as a king and queen, settled in a vine-clad cottage just a few minutes walk from the office bearing the modest little sign:

JOHN DE BARR
Attorney

Scene 1—Veneta, standing in her kitchen, a bill in her hand and a troubled expression on her face as she takes, one by one, a few groceries out of a box that had just been delivered in fulfillment of an order she had phoned in early in the day.

Enter Mrs. Standfield—"Why Veneta, what is the cause of the troubled look?" "Oh, mother, you know how I am trying to be economical for Jack's sake, but see those few groceries, think of their costing seven dollars and twenty cents. Why after our evening dinner is over what will there be left?"

Mrs. Standfield—"Veneta, I have heard so much of late of the Alpha Beta Stores and the great saving there is in their 'Help Yourself' system, I want you to put on your hat and we shall get in my car and go right over and do some buying—let me see—they have a west and an east end store. I think, contrary to Horace Greeley's advice to go West, we shall go East."

Scene 2—Gerrard Bos. East End Store thickly peopled with customers.

Enter Mrs. Standfield and Veneta. Veneta—"Mother, do you know how we are to do?"

Mrs. Standfield—"No, but there is a clerk with a white coat on who spies us and is coming this way."

Clerk—"Madam, I see you are strangers, and not accustomed to our way of business. Kindly come in the entrance here and I shall be delighted to explain it to you. We have endeavored, as much as lay in our power to arrange all goods in alphabetical order. This is the starting point A. And from it to Z you will find goods marked in plain figures. There are tables containing breakfast foods, flour, salt, matches, soap, etc., each designated by signs. And now I know you will find much freer to be left to yourselves. I shall be near by, however, to give any assistance and to carry your tray to the front as it fills. In order not to delay you I shall have the sums computed and goods placed in a container as fast as I bear them forward."

Scene 3—Mrs. Standfield—"See dear, here are asparagus tips marked thirty-five cents. I never get them less than forty-three. We shall take six cans.

Pork and Beans, large cans, eighteen cents, ours always cost from twenty-two to twenty-five cents. There go a dozen into the tray. Newmark's coffee fifty-four cents. I pay sixty."

(Ten minutes after) Veneta—"But mother, here we are only at M, and the clerk has carried two heaping trays up."

Mrs. Standfield—"I suppose our bill will be heavy but the goods will keep and we are saving money." "Will Jack not be pleased?"

Scene 4—Mrs. Standfield and Veneta at the counter. Mrs. S.—"I had no intention of buying so freely—four heaping trays—what must the amount be?"

Cashier—"Eleven dollars and thirty-three cents. Mrs. S.—"Are you sure you have everything? I thought it would go double that. Certainly the Gerrard Bros. have the system. Veneta, we shall not go straight home, but instead make a morning call on the Merediths, the Carlings and the Becks, and let them know the very fascinating profitable business we have been engaged in this day."

Look for Mr. Haskell's Ad in next Monday's Paper.

HISTORY MAKING PLANE LIGHTS IN HOME CITY OF INVENTOR

Commander and Crew Greet Father and Home People of Glenn Martin

"The best field we have landed in on the entire trip."

This was the expression of Lieut.
E. E. Harmon, pilot of the Martin Bomber flying around the rim of the United States, after he landed the history-making aircraft in McFadden field Saturday afternoon.

It was a big event for Santa Ana,
for it means that the news will go abroad that this city has a good landing field, and that the wheels of the nation-touring plane touched ground upon which its inventor made some of the first experiments that have resulted in the development of the successful machines of today.

Early Saturday morning C. Y. Martin went over the field, making a personal investigation. He found that there was a strip clear of alfalfa
shocks 500 feet in width and 2500 feet long. He and J. C. Metzgar at once got busy by telephone and told Col.
Hartz of the conditions. Martin, knowing the marking features required in an aviation field, marked the ground and gave assurance that the plane could be landed with perfect safety.

Commander Hartz was a little skeptical and would give no definite assurance that he would risk landing.

He promised that he would land here if the field seemed all right, and he did. The big plane was over Santa Ana in fifteen minutes after it left Chaplin Field in Los Angeles, and flying low, circled the city two or three times and then struck south for the landing field. Driving low over the field and seeing that there was nothing that offered a risk in bringing the big plane to a landing, Col.
Hartz directed that the plane stop for a few minutes. The pilot made a pretty circle and brought the craft to the field.

Martin Made Happy

It was a happy moment for C. Y.
Martin when the record-making craft
was halted, for he saw the realization of a dream of his son, Glenn Martin.
It was upon this field some nine or ten years ago, during a season of the Parade of Products here, that Glenn Martin gave the first public exhibition of flying machines in this city.

Notwithstanding the fact that it was problematical as to whether the plane
would land here, there was a good crowd on the field, and when it was seen that the airship was going to land, hundreds more rushed from the city to glimpse the craft.

C. Y. Martin and J. C. Metzgar and Fred Fuller, of the Chamber of Commerce committee which had in charge arrangements for the landing of the plane here, were on hand to greet Col. Hartz and his crew. Martin was introduced to each member of the crew of four, and all expressed their delight at meeting the father of the man who is at the head of the company making the equipment with which they are making history.

A register was opened and all who had personal acquaintance with Glenn Martin were invited to sign. This will be forwarded to him by the crew,
along with a report of the stop and a picture of his father, taken standing by the side of Col. Hartz.

"Mighty Glad We Stopped"

"I am mighty glad we stopped," declared Hartz. "I wouldn't have missed it for a good deal, for it is a pleasure to meet the father of Glenn Martin and greet so many of his old friends. You have a wonderful field here, and if Santa Ana wants to get on the way with a landing place for ships of the coming method of transportation, no time should be lost in securing this site as a permanent landing station."

"By eliminating the telephone poles on each side of the tract and placing the wires underground, every possible
source of danger to flying craft light-

REV. O'REAR IS RETURNED FOR FIFTH YEAR

Rev. A. T. O'Rear today returned to Santa Ana from San Bernardino, following adjournment of the fifth annual conference of the Los Angeles and Arizona districts of the Methodist Church, South, to start his fifth year
as pastor of Spurgeon Memorial church. Return of this popular pastor to Santa Ana to continue his services here for another year brings joy to the hearts of his congregation and to the hosts of friends he has made during his pastorate here.

Two changes in the conference districts that will be of particular news interest to the Santa Ana people are the transfer of Rev. D. S. Scarborough to the West Texas conference, and the retirement of Rev. George S. Clark, both of whom were formerly located here. Rev. Scarborough has been presiding elder of the Arizona
district for some time. Rev. Clark has been pastor of Bethel church at Phoenix. It is understood that he will make his home at Downey for the next year. He retires from active work because of ill health.

the coming year, as announced by Bishop H. M. Dubose at the closing session:

Gray, presiding elder; Carpenteria, W.

EDGAR SUGGESTS ONE ANSWER TO HOUSING PROBLEM

Grocer Urges Visitor to Stop
In Balboa While Homes
Are Filled

Geo. A. Edgar, the pioneer grocer, is nothing if not loyal and public-spirited as a citizen of Santa Ana.
But he is that and much more. He is an enthusiastic booster, a man of ideas—and quick to seize every opportunity to get in a good word or stroke
for his home town and county.

Lots of people are loyal and optimistic and a lot of other good things
—nearly all of us are—but we haven't all got gumption.

The other day a man and his wife and grown-up daughter stopped their machine in front of Edgar's store. On the machine was a banner reading
"Salt Lake City," and in it and on the running boards were provisions and camping paraphernalia.

"The man came into the store," said George, "and bought some groceries,
and I asked him where he was going.

Couldn't Find House

"I really don't know," he replied,
"but I know I can't stay here, for I have searched the town over without success in finding a house or apartment in which to live. We wanted to stop here for a few months at least,
with a view to permanent location,
but—well, we're on our way."

"No you're not, I said," continued
Mr. Edgar, "you're going right down to Balboa, one of the most delightful spots in the world. There you can get a cottage or apartment or even a fine big house, all furnished and ready for you at reasonable rental price."

"And, say! He did that very thing and today came in to thank me for the suggestion. He is motoring all over Orange county at his leisure and pleasure, and says he expects to make his home here. His name is Mitchell.
—I didn't get his initials—and he's a high-class man."

Practical Suggestion

Here would seem to be a very practical and valuable suggestion.

If real estate men, Chamber of Commerce people, merchants, bankers,
citizens generally would act upon it,
we should not only partially solve our housing problem, but contribute largely to the prosperity of the Beach towns during their off season.

Undoubtedly there are many apartments, cottages and houses, furnished and unfurnished, at Balboa, Newport, East Newport, Corona del Mar, Huntington Beach and Laguna Beach that would admirably meet the temporary requirements of tourists and home-seekers who have automobiles. It would seem that the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce could render a valuable community service securing lists of such accommodations, and asking real estate men and others to whom applications for housing may come to refer the applicants to Secretary Metzgar.

FEW S. A. LAWYERS TO GO TO CONCLAVE

Very few, if any, Santa Ana attorneys have made plans to attend the convention of the California Bar Association, which meets at Pasadena, October 23, 24 and 25, it was stated
today. Attorney J. C. Burke, secretary of the Orange County Bar Association, said that he knew of no members of his organization who are planning on going. The local association is not affiliated with the state association.

An important subject has been chosen for the Thursday evening session of the convention at Pasadena.
It will be in the nature of a symposium on the new community property law which has been held up by referendum. Former Justice of the Supreme Court Max C. Sloss will deliver the argument in opposition to the proposed statute, and Senator William C. C. Brown will speak in its favor. The addresses to be followed by open discussion by members and delegates.
The report of the legislative committee will be presented at the evening
session.

The annual address will be delivered at the opening of the morning session of Friday. The speaker this year will be Prof. Maurice E. Harrison, Dean of Hastings College of Law. His subject will be "The Declaratory Judgment of California." The remainder of the morning session will be devoted to reports of sections with regard to proposed changes in the laws. Undoubtedly the report of section "A" on Constitutional Amendments will provoke discussion for it recommends that the association express itself with regard to the proposed constitutional convention.

Here Are Two of Season's Newest Hats Both Large and Small Creations Worn

Two of Newest New York Hats

Velvet, Ostrich Plumes and Fur Enter Into Makeup of Headgear

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Two new hats seen this season on Fifth avenue are typical of the latest in women's headgear just now. One of them is an afternoon hat. It is a big, rich affair. It has a plait of chiffon velvet curving downward on each side and showed with half curled ostrich plumes shaded at the tips. Naturally it goes with a rich costume.

The other is a more demure creation for wear at any time and is unusually popular. It is a smart little turban made of velvet, fur and ostrich
and is unusually chic.

SANTA ANA PIONEER NEAR DEATH IN EAST

According to a letter just received by Attorney H. C. Head, Arthur Johnston is dying of cancer at a hotel in Jacksonville, Fla. The letter was written by the proprietor of the hotel.
It stated that Johnston had asked her to tell Head that Johnston's physician said that he has cancer of the stomach and cannot live more than two or three months. Johnston is well known in Santa Ana, where he was a pioneer. Although approaching old age, he learned stenography and typewriting, and for several years he was a stenographic reporter in the local courts. He was stenographer in Attorney Head's office. Several years ago his wife died here, and soon afterward Johnston went to Canada, and then to the South.

County Leads Church Membership Average State of California

The percentage of church membership in Orange county is higher than in any other county in California, according to E. G. Talbot, state director of survey for the Interchurch World
Movement, in a letter written to Rev.
W. G. Kitzmiller of Orange.

The letter was written in reply to Mr. Kitzmiller's resignation from the work in this county, which he submitted because unable to handle the interchurch movement in addition to his Sunday school work. The letter says
in part:

I am writing at this time to tell you how much we appreciate the good work you have done in connection with the survey. Also Dr. Pinkerton has spoken to me of the fine work
you have done. Although your time will be so well taken up the rest of this month, please give every assistance you can, however, to Chaplain Torrence in the completion of the survey. In many respects, Orange county will make one of the best impressions as a survey county of any county in the whole United States.
Your percentage of church membership is very much higher than in any other county in California.

With best wishes and thanking you for your help, I am, Cordially yours,
E. GUY TALBOTT,
State Director of Survey.

NOTED ARTISTS WILL APPEAR AT STANFORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Oct. 20.—Amelita Galli-Curei, world's greatest coloratura soprano; Rudolph Ganz, pianist, and Carolina Lazzari, contralto, will appear before Stanford
audiences during the college season.
Each will appear at a concert under the direction of Frank Healy.

BACK FROM 7600 MILE JOURNEY TO EASTERN POINTS

L. A. Ludwig and Family Return From Four Months Tour In Ford

Traveling through sixteen states and into Canada, L. A. Ludwig is home and declares that California has all the states he passed through backed off the map in point of good roads.
He is mighty glad to get back, likewise his wife and son, Wallace.

The family had been gone four months, and during that time traveled exclusively in their Ford. They traveled 7600 miles, "over good roads, bad roads and no roads at all," as Ludwig expresses it. They traveled 25 miles at one stretch over nothing but stones, their average speed for that distance being ten miles an hour.
Their average day's drive was 150 miles.

"We saw 352 relatives and old friends on the trip," said Ludwig today. "That hundreds of cities are alive to the value and importance of maintaining auto camping grounds
was fully demonstrated on our trip.
It was a fine feature and it was great pleasure to come to a city where camping grounds were maintained and where we found ample accommodations. These are certainly appreciated by tourists who arrive at such places tired and dusty after a hard day's drive. At one place the city provided light and baths free."

"We found Fords everywhere and they were always on the move. The Henrys moved where larger cars were stuck. At one place along the road eight large cars were stuck in the mud, while Fords were going through the mud without trouble."

"If we had the trip to make over we would do it in a Ford. Parts can be had most any place and when trouble develops repairs can be made with very little delay."

"California has all the states beat for good roads. We are glad to get back to Santa Ana, and believe me,
the city and county look mighty good after a trip like the one we have just completed."

"This is a strange age," remarked
the First Merchant.

"Yes," agreed the Second Merchant.
"You charge a man a dollar for some fifty-cent article he needs, and then you have to pay him a dollar
for some fifty-cent article you need."

—Cincinnati Enquirer.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION IS BEGUN AT TURLOCK

TURLOCK, Oct. 20.—With delegates from all parts of California attending, the Victory state convention

The meetings of the convention are being held in the Swedish Mission church, which has a seating capacity of 1200. Mrs. J. W. Roberts of Turlock, member of the committee on arrangements, has charge of the entertainment of the delegates.

SELLS HAT FOR MEAL THEN KILLS HIMSELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—"I sold my hat tonight for 35 cents to get a meal. I was going to the morgue to kill myself, but could not find the place, so came here."

This was the note found on the body of Jerry E. Brooks, 45, a chemist, who walked into the central emergency hospital last night and fired a bullet into his brain.

M. B. Schnee, Chiropractist, Phone 176.

GREAT INTEREST IN GOLF CLUB TOURNEY

Thirty-two Players Competing For a Handsome Silver Trophy

With the daily average of play on the links of the Orange County Country Club greater during the past 30 days than during any like period in the history of the organization, the tournament for the handsome silver cup offered by the Golfers' Magazine, of Chicago, has now swung into the third round of play, every indication being that when the tourney is ended it will be found to have been an affair more successful than any of its predecessors.

The cup offered by the Golfers' Magazine is thirty inches in height and is a beauty. It is given by the Chicago publishers to every club in the United States that secures ten new subscribers to the magazine. In the present tournament there are thirty-two players, which means that thirty new subscriptions will be forthcoming, with the result that the publication will put up a similar cup each year, as per an agreement.

Financially, the Orange County Country Club is in a better condition than during any time since it was organized. This is reflected in the price being paid for transferred memberships. At present there are two former members of the club who had expected to leave but who have since decided permanently to return to this country. These two former members are now experiencing difficulty in securing new memberships, indicating the club's sound basis at present.

A directors' meeting is to be held within the next week or ten days, when an entertainment committee, to see to the arranging of social affairs during the winter, will be appointed.

Appreciation was expressed today by Ed McWilliams, one of the directors, of the fact that there are numbers of men in Santa Ana who have never been on the links but who have paid their membership dues regularly, just to support the club.

"Every member deeply appreciates what these loyal men have done," said McWilliams.

One reason why there has been a marked acceleration of interest in activities at the local club is that many members, of the thirty or thirty-five who went into various branches of the service, have returned. The memberships of these men were not forfeited by the club, their dues having been remitted.

In the first round of play for the Golfers' Magazine cup the scores were as follows:

Fred Crosier and W. H. Spurgeon, 1 and 20; J. W. Tubbs, 3 and 2, and L. L. Carden, Dr. W. H. Flood, and Mark Lacy, 3 and 2; George B. Shattuck, 1 up, and H. W. Witner, Robert Shafer and Ed Farnsworth, 1 and 20; Elmer Prince and Robert Herald, 1 up; F. B. Browning and Robert Reid, 6 and 5; Hugh Smith and H. A. Benning, 1 up; J. C. Metzgar, 5 and 4, and Charles Way; Norman Hoyle, 5 and 4, and Dr. J. I. Clark; E. V. S. Pomeroy, won by default from E. S. Gilbert; Frank Freeman, 4 and 3, and Fred Parsons; C. G. Twist defaulted to George Jeffrey; Hugh J. Lowe, 2 and 1, and Harry Hanson; A. W. Rutan and C. L. Holmes, 1 up; H. McCullough, 1 up, and Lew Wallace.

The scores in the second round were as follows:

Tubbs, 5 and 4; Lacy, 5 and 3; Herald, 3 and 2; Reid, 4 and 3; Hoyle, 1 up; Freeman, 2 up; Jeffrey, defaulted; McCullough, score unknown.

AMUSEMENTS

THE MIRACLE MAN

"The Miracle Man" had a big four days' run at the Temple theater and Manager L. A. Schlesinger scored another triumph in his campaign for "better pictures." The screen depicts the best of life and the worst, and evidences the influence of the sweet life over the impure and unholy life, where it is practiced innocently and consistently.

The influence of the "Mystery Man" in his purity turns a quartet raised in the slums of New York, who know nothing but immorality and vice, from their wayward path to one of right living and happiness they little dreamed could exist other than in surroundings of vice.

Thomas Meighan and Betty Compson, the stars, never were seen to better advantage and were supported by an excellent cast. "The Frog" and "The Dove" did remarkable acting and "The Patriarch" was sublime. "Little Dick," the cripple, showed remarkable versatility.

The play was made more delightful by the very appropriate music and the scenery made a setting which completed, as a whole, a story which is a magnificent sermon.

DEMONSTRATION FINGER PRINTS AT LUNCHEON

Chas. Holbrook, Expert at Sheriff's Office, Will Explain System

Santa Ana men with records are warned to keep away from the Chamber of Commerce luncheon next Wednesday, for Sheriff C. E. Jackson and his deputy are to be in full charge of the weekly gathering of business men. Holbrook is the finger print expert in the sheriff's office, and he will demonstrate finger print work at the luncheon. He will make the prints and take impressions right on the spot, explaining fully the method by which the finger lines can be compared and identified.

Secretary Metzgar says that if any of the regular attendants are absent on Wednesday next, he will not hesitate in reaching the conclusion that the absentees are men with past records and that they stayed away for fear that their finger prints might lead to their detection as criminals.

The finger print system is little understood by the general public and the demonstration and explanation by Finger Print Expert Holbrook should prove entertaining and enlightening.

The stop was of fifteen or twenty minutes' duration, during which time the plane was examined by a large number of Santa Ana people.

When Col. Hartz climbed into the forward cockpit he had under his arm a small sack of bud-bud walnuts, as a sample of what this country produces. It was the gift of O. T. Johnson, who presented it personally.

A movie machine was stationed in the forward cockpit and a representative of the International News Weekly took pictures of the field and crowd as the ship was landing.

The machine has two propellers. In starting out, it took to the air in less space than is required to get some of the lighter machines off the ground, demonstrating that the McFadden field is amply large for the landing of any of the larger aircraft.

MAY OPEN FREE DRUG CLINIC IN SANTA ANA

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter has announced at Los Angeles that he will extend to other Southern California cities the campaign that led to approval of plans for establishing here a free clinic where drug addicts may secure narcotics and be saved from robbery by the "runners."

San Diego will be the first city visited by the collector in this campaign. He will go there today.

Another clinic will be established at Bakersfield and probably another at San Bernardino, but the situation at San Luis Obispo, Santa Ana and Riverside has not been fully discussed. Just what will be done in the smaller centers of population is not yet known.

The activity of Collector Carter in the Sixth Internal Revenue district is a part of the nationwide movement. The commissioner of internal revenue has ordered that every collector in the country co-operate.
